PTA Plans Gala Reception For School Supt. Dennard

Newton residents who have no children in the public schools will have an opportunity to meet Eric N. Dennard, new superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Dennard at a reception March 1, organized by the School-Community Relationship Committee of the Newton P.T.A. Council.

The reception will be held from 3 to 5 at the Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington St., Newton.

A native Texan, and former superintendent of schools in Waco, Texas, Mr. Dennard is nearing completion of his first year as administrator of the Newton public school system.

Thirty-five percent of the adult citizens of Newton are parents of public school children.

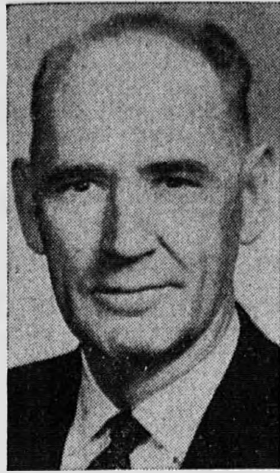

These citizens will have the opportunity to see Supt. Dennard during the school year at meetings sponsored by the Individual Parent Teacher Associations. This special reception is intended for the remaining 65 percent of the public who contribute their share of tax dollars to maintaining the high standards of the Newton public school system.

Assisting the School Community Relationship Committee of the P.T.A. Council in sponsoring the reception include the World Affairs Council, the League of Women Voters, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Newton Community Council, the Jackson Homestead, the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs and the Chamber of Commerce.

More Fun, Features In "Suburbia Today"

"Suburbia Today," the gay and interesting magazine supplement launched so auspiciously in this newspaper in January, returns again with today's issue for another cheery and enjoyable monthly visit.

Crammed from cover to cover with features, stories, clever cartoons and illustrations, the magazine is destined to become a pleasant habit, and eagerly anticipated by readers of this newspaper, on the first Thursday of each month.

Robert C. Wood, author of "Suburbia, Its People and Their Politics," heads a lengthy list of lively articles in the February magazine. Mr. Wood discusses the movement of 9,000,000 Americans from cities to suburbs in the last ten years and characterizes it as, "the greatest migration in the shortest time in the nation's history."

He is assistant professor of economics at MIT and himself one of the 9,000,000 migrants, having recently moved with his family to Lincoln, Mass., just 25 minutes from Harvard square.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT
Former Boston Post Political Editor

Furcolo's Withholding Woes Injure Sales Tax Prospects

Governor Furcolo appears to have a slick, unflinching do-it-yourself kit for making political problems for himself.

A month ago at this time, when he was inaugurated to begin his second term, his prestige was at its highest point, and Beacon Hill observers were convinced that he would be able to get the strongly Democratic Legislature to do just about what he wanted it to do, including possibly to pass a sales tax.

Just when it seemed he was moving smoothly along, with greater support in the Legislature than any Democratic Governor before him ever had, Furcolo suddenly ran into trouble in the Senate with his withholding bill.

Exactly where and when the Furcolo steamroller began to run out of steam wasn't quite clear to State House onlookers who themselves were thrown into a state of bewilderment just trying to keep abreast of the conflicting statements on the withholding measure.

Possibly, Governor Furcolo's woes stemmed from a combination of factors, some not of his own making.

Perhaps, the Governor went a little too far in reaching out for all or nearly all the withholding windfall and not leaving any for the cities and towns to ease the strain of their mounting tax rates.

Many Events Planned For "Scout Week"

Uniformed Boy Scouts, Cub Pack members and Explorer Units will be constant reminders of the fact that "Boy Scout Week" is being observed in Newton starting tomorrow (Friday) and continuing through February 12, according to R.L. B. Johnson, scout executive of Norumbega Council.

A torchlight parade and rededication ceremony will be held at Newton City Hall on Scout Sunday, February 8, at 7:45 p.m.

Scouts, Cubs, Explorers and leaders will participate in uniform. The boys will parade with electric torches to the City Hall where they will rededicate themselves by public utterance of the Scout Oath and Explorers Code. Scout Commissioner Felix Knauth will be parade marshal.

Norumbega Council will present Boy Scout participation awards to all units taking part in the parade as well as to those who conduct live

City-Wide Meetings To Be Held Tonight

"Decisions" Groups Inaugurate Campaign

Several study groups have been formed in Newton to participate in the "Decisions 1959" program, which Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr. has endorsed.

Many meetings will be held throughout Newton tonight in conjunction with the first study topic, "Challenges of a Changing World," to be seen on Channel 2, television at 8 o'clock tonight.

This is a national program in which citizens gather in their communities for informal study of problems currently facing the State Department.

1 Killed, 1 Hurt In 50-Foot Fall

Construction of the new apartment house at 10 Hammond Pond parkway, Chestnut Hill, was marred by a fatal accident. A Brockton man, James Driscoll, 30, who was on the job on his first day, was killed last Friday when he plunged 50 feet to the frozen ground when a staging collapsed.

A fellow-workman, Alfred J. Izzo, 27, of Winthrop, was admitted to Newton-Wellesley Hospital, with a possible fracture of the right leg.

Both were employed by a South Boston glass firm. They toppled to the ground when the hooks holding the ladder scaffolding to the roof separated.

"Citizens of Newton have a challenging opportunity," Mayor Whitmore said, "to inform themselves in regard to critical problems in world affairs by taking part in the studies that will be carried on this winter in neighborhood groups and organizations in the city."

"The 'Great Decisions' program that the Foreign Policy Association offers annually to the communities of the nation in cooperation with radio and TV networks makes an important contribution to civic education."

The Mayor is honorary chairman of the World Affairs Council of Newton.

Kits of study materials have been provided by the Foreign Policy Association and may be

Mayor Plans Battle To Save Newton Corner Rail Service

Hearing Starts Tomorrow On Petition by B&A To Wipe Out 25 Train Stops

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and other civic and public leaders today were mapping an all-out fight against an attempt by the Boston and Albany railroad to close down the Newton Corner station and discontinue service to that section of the city.

A hearing on the B & A petition is scheduled to start before the State Public Utilities Commission at 10 a.m. tomorrow (Friday) in the Gardner Auditorium at the State House.

It is expected that B & A spokesmen will use all day tomorrow in submitting their case and that there will be no opportunity for the opponents led by Mayor Whitmore to make their arguments.

A request has been made to the Utilities Commission that a day be designated on which the objectors would be heard, but no date yet has been set for them.

Mayor Whitmore and officers of the Newton Improvement Association have encouraged as many residents of the city as possible to attend tomorrow's proceedings in the

ON LAST RUN — There's a touch of sadness as Miss Lenore E. Kearns poses with her dad, David W. Kearns, in a New Haven commuter coach at Blackstone. It was the first time she ever rode with him in his 58 years of railroading, and his last run before retiring.

Veteran Local Conductor Closes 58 Railroad Years

Hale and hearty despite his 83 years, David W. Kearns, of 4 Washington Pk., Newtonville, ended 58 years of railroading Saturday as passenger conductor of the New Haven's Blackstone to Boston 11:30 p.m. run.

He didn't want to retire. But he was among 19 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, 70 or over, who were forced to retire from the New Haven system.

The retirements became mandatory under a union rule adopted by referendum vote of the members two years ago.

"It does seem strange to be out of a job after all those years," Mr. Kearns told the Newton Graphic.

"I don't know what I'm going to do with myself. I feel a man should keep busy if he wants to live to a ripe old age. Oh, I'll find some things to do around the house, and watch TV. I don't want to slow down too quickly."

He makes his home with a daughter, Miss Lenore E. Kearns, who works in the general offices of the Boston & Maine railroad.

His wife, Mrs. Eleonora J. (Hughes) Kearns died last July.

"If she had lived until September," Mr. Kearns observed, "we would have celebrated our 60th wedding anniversary."

He has another daughter, Mrs. June Kelleher of Marshfield, who has three children; and two sons, Rev. Louis S. Kearns, pastor of Our Lady Help of Christians Church in West Concord, and David W. Kearns II, of West Medford, an executive of the Fruit Growers Exchange.

Six Hurt Here 4 Mishaps In Traffic Toll Over Weekend

Two-year-old John Dellipriscoli, of 24 Bennington street, Newton, is recovering satisfactorily from injuries suffered when he tumbled to the street as a door swung open from his mother's car.

Mrs. June Dellipriscoli told police she was driving near 430 Centre street, Newton, when the accident occurred. She said she tried to catch the boy as the door swung open, but missed him. Her auto struck the parked car of Ellison E. Knapp Jr., of 29 Trowbridge street, Newtonville. It was shoved against another parked car.

Evidence of a frustrated attempt to crack the safe at Waldo Bros., 96 Border St., West Newton, was discovered over the weekend.

Entrance was gained by ripping off a screen and smashing the glass of a rear window. A tire iron used was found atop the safe. The office was ransacked, but the safe withstood efforts to rip off the combination.

Save Trains-

Gardner Auditorium in order to manifest the public concern felt over the B&A move.

City Solicitor Matt B. Jones, Jr., will represent the city at the hearing, but Mayor Whitmore will testify before the utilities commissioners when the objectors are afforded an opportunity to tell their story.

Whitmore said today that the request by the B&A for the right to close down the Newton Corner station and discontinue the stops now made at the station daily by 25 trains "doesn't make any sense" to him.

The Mayor voiced the conviction that the B&A would lose more than it would gain by the move.

He pointed out that the 25 trains will still be running through the station and that it takes only a minute or two for them to stop and pick up or discharge passengers.

Mayor Whitmore expressed doubt that the saving by eliminating the train stops would be enough to offset the loss in revenue now received in fares from the more than 1000 persons who ride over the B&A line each weekday between Newton Corner and the South Station.

Discontinuance of the service to the Newton Corner station, coming on top of the abandonment of the Highland Branch line, would be a severe blow to a large number of Newton residents, the Mayor declared.

He cited that the Newton Corner station presently is being used as a discharge point for persons from the south side of the city who formerly rode on the Highland Branch.

Statistics compiled by the Mayor showed that an average of 565 people ride each weekday from the South Station to the Newton Corner station while 452 board the trains at Newton Corner to travel to the South Station.

The Mayor, who made no secret of his intention to wage

Science In The Newton Schools Is PTA Subject

Eugene Gray, science consultant in the Newton school department, was the principal speaker at the recent meeting of the Beethoven School PTA.

Introduced by program chairman, Alvin Caplan, Mr. Gray discussed science in the classroom, and the resources available to Newton teachers, namely books, equipment, live animals, teacher workshops, and the camp at Peterborough.

Through science, Mr. Gray stated, children learn to solve problems in an organized way.

PTA president, Richard Jarrell announced that the next meeting on March 17 will be devoted to a Science Fair. Richard Pratt, 6th grade teacher, who is in charge of the Fair is arranging for the participation of all the students. Fifth and sixth grade students may enter individual and group projects. All the other grades are working on class projects, in order to provide an experience on the level of each child.

Charles Feeley, Newton's Safety Officer, discussed the school's traffic problems. The group voted to petition for a traffic light at Beacon street and Beethoven avenue.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Louis Shrair. Floral arrangements were made by Mrs. Howard Rubin.

His writings have appeared in the Magnate, the Atlantic Monthly and Readers Digest. He is the winner of the Amara Howe Award of "distinguished writing of public significance" and of the Associated Press regional award.

Mrs. Edwin C. Harkins, president, will act as day chairman and hostess will be Mrs. Peter Janis and the Executive Board—group 5. Mrs. LeRoy A. Faulkner, chairman of Art will be in charge of the judging of the entries in the sewing contest made and modeled by club members. The contest is sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Washington, D.C. with the co-operation of Vogue Pattern Service and the Woman's Club Service Bureau of New York City.

the most vigorous possible fight against the B&A application, said that if the petition were granted, it would leave one of Newton's oldest and most active villages without commuter train service.

He further observed that the ride by MTA from Newton Corner to the Park Street station is a long, tedious trip and that many persons who now travel by train between Newton Corner and the South Station might turn to car pools if they were deprived of the present service.

Other Newton leaders, including members of the Legislature and officers of the Newton Improvement Association, will rally with Mayor Whitmore in opposing the B&A move.

Registrar Riley

What person in Massachusetts has saved the most human lives during the past six or eight weeks?

Our nomination would be Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley.

To an even greater extent perhaps than any registrar before him, Riley has been able to impress upon automobile operators the hazards involved in driving after drinking and in disregarding other safety regulations.

This was reflected somewhat strikingly recently when two young men in their early 20's walked into a police station not far from here and asked the sergeant on the desk if they would be in trouble in the event they were stopped while driving and were found to have the odor of beer on their breath.

The sergeant informed them that any automobile operator found with the odor of beer or other alcoholic beverages on his breath would have his license suspended under the regulations issued by Registrar Riley.

"Even if we only had one beer?" one of the youths asked.

Driving after drinking even one beer was against the rules, the officer emphasized.

The pair remarked on the severity of Registrar Riley's rules and walked out shaking their heads.

When two young men take time to stop at a police station to ask those questions, it means that Registrar Riley's campaign has made an impact upon them, and it is reasonable to assume that it has made a similar impact upon a great many other persons.

With the tremendous number of automobiles on the highways today, it never will be possible to stop highway accidents or eliminate highway deaths.

But Registrar Riley is doing an excellent job of trying to keep the toll as low as possible. Some persons unquestionably are alive today who might have been killed in accidents but for his efforts.

Political Highlights

Maybe the trouble really started in the House of Representatives, notwithstanding the breath-taking speed with which the withholding measure was pushed through their chamber.

Some of the first-term Democratic House members obviously resented the manner in which the political bull whip was snapped to get them or keep them in line behind the bill.

Republican House Leader Frank S. Giles waged an extremely effective fight against the proposal.

While Giles didn't succeed in stopping or even slowing down the progress of the withholding measure in the House, he did make an impact upon the public by digging out Governor Furcolo's own figures of last year on the amounts the cities and towns were to get from the withholding windfall.

Some of the Democratic Senators apparently were influenced by the public reaction to Giles' battle against the withholding bill.

Then, too, the statements and estimates as to the amounts the withholding windfall would produce were so confusing as to set both Democrats and Republican heads spinning.

Originally, it was indicated that Governor Furcolo hoped and expected to get $35 million from the windfall, resulting from the overlapping of income tax payments, to balance the State budget.

That figure was revised upwards with the statement that the Governor needed and wanted $40 million to straighten out the State's finances for the fiscal year ending June 30.

When Governor Furcolo submitted his withholding bill to the Legislature, it developed that he was seeking the entire windfall for the Commonwealth.

That produced an outcry of protests, and after a conference with Boston's Mayor Hynes, Governor Furcolo announced that he would keep the first $50 million of the windfall for the State and would distribute the rest to the cities and towns.

A day later, Furcolo issued a different statement, asserting that he would keep $60 million and give the rest to the local communities.

By this time the Democratic legislators were in pretty much a state of confusion since the Governor's bill did not call for the State to distribute any part of the windfall, and the Governor's office had insisted that the measure could not be amended.

In fact, Democratic House members who showed a disposition to vote with the Republicans to revise the wording of the bill were called on the carpet and summarily instructed to vote for the bill as it stood.

State House reporters, puzzled by the day-to-day changes in the withholding controversy, trooped down to a press conference in Governor Furcolo's office and sought to have the situation clarified.

The Governor told the newsmen that he understood the situation perfectly but that he might have some difficulty explaining it. So he sent for some experts from the State tax department.

On their arrival the tax officials declared that all the withholding windfall would produce was $40 million.

How that reconciled with the Governor's assertions, first that the cities and towns could have all over $50 million, and secondly that they could have all over $60 million, was something of a mystery except that it was fairly clear that the local communities were not likely to receive anything.

Meanwhile, State Senate President John E. Powers, who was an advocate of a withholding tax long before Governor Furcolo espoused the idea, was stalling action on the matter in the Senate in order to give Furcolo time to line up the 21 votes he needed for passage of the measure.

Powers prevented a vote last week on the withholding proposal which would have resulted in the defeat of the measure and a terrible blow to Governor Furcolo's prestige.

Powers, it may be recalled, spearheaded a battle back in 1957 for a State income withholding tax. He was aiming at tax evaders, was not seeking any windfall, but the bill at that time was not supported by the Governor, and it failed of passage by a narrow margin.

"He's a very slow worker."

That summarizes some of the events which created all the confusion over the withholding measure but it isn't so easy to pinpoint exactly where and when Governor Furcolo began to slip into some of the same kind of legislative trouble which all but engulfed him in 1957.

One thing which is clear, however, is that if the Governor has this much difficulty trying to push through his withholding bill he is going to be faced with a much bigger problem when the time arrives for him to try to cross his sales tax proposal.

The withholding fight loomed as an easy one for the Governor when it started. Everyone agreed that the sales tax battle would be much more difficult and much harder to win.

That leads to the inescapable conclusion that the prospects for the eventual passage of a sales tax have been lessened by the developments within the past two weeks.

One factor which is operating in Governor Furcolo's favor, however, irrespective of all the side clashes, is that the Legislature either must provide additional revenue from some source or must slash the State budget drastically.

Despite the unenthusiasm, and even the outright opposition to a withholding tax and a sales tax, the alternate proposals advanced by the ADA appear even more objectionable.

Dem. Congressmen Out Of Step With Public

Democratic members of Congress who regard Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri as their party's strongest candidate for President in 1960 either haven't been reading the popular polls or don't believe what they show.

Practically every check that has been made to determine sentiment among the rank and file of the voters revealed Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts running far ahead of Symington.

That is why political experts are looking somewhat askance at the results of a poll of 133 Democratic Senators and Congressmen conducted by Congressional Quarterly to determine who they thought would be their party's most potent presidential and vice presidential contenders next year.

The Democratic law-makers, surprisingly, gave Symington a 2-1 lead over Kennedy in the presidential voting, with Adlai Stevenson way down in fifth position. Kennedy was an overwhelming choice for the vice presidential nomination.

Since there are far more than 133 Democratic Senators and Congressmen the results of the poll may be somewhat misleading.

It is a little difficult, however, for most political experts to follow the reasoning of any Democratic Senator or Congressman who view the situation objectively and come up with the conclusion that Symington would be a stronger candidate for the Presidency than Kennedy in 1960.

Maybe Symington has a better chance than Kennedy of getting the Democratic Presidential nomination. That doesn't mean he would have a better chance of winning election.

Symington probably would be a stronger candidate than Kennedy in some of the border States and in sections of the south.

However, no political observer is likely to be convinced that Symington would be anywhere nearly as strong as Kennedy in such pivotal states as New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and California — states on which the outcome of a presidential election usually hinge.

It is pretty safe to predict that any Senator or Congressman from one of those States

Band Exchange With Bangor Features Week-End Program

The first half of the Newton High-Bangor High exchange will begin tomorrow afternoon. The Bangor band will arrive in Newton and prepare, during the afternoon, with the Newton band at the Meadowbrook Jr. High School, for a concert to be given that evening. The concert is open to everyone, with a special invitation to all those who helped the band in its fund raising drive. The concert will begin at 8:30 and there will be no admission charge.

Arrangements for the concert and the entire weekend have been made by the band and the Band Parents-Students Association. The Association elected the following officers during one of its early meetings: President, George Marsh; vice-president, Lloyd Gilroy; secretary, Mrs. Natale Sostilio, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. E. L. Jones. The B.P.S.A. also worked in conjunction with the band members through a group of parents who made up a steering committee. These parents were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Auryansen, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shafman and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Drasin. A student committee was organized through the band to act in the same capacity as the parents' steering committee. The student members were Jim Campbell, Bert Alexander, Robin Marsh, Howie Gorney, Norm White, Maureen Maguire, Sally Young and Sue Drasin. Various committees were organized by the steering committee to arrange the innumerable details involved in the exchange.

Since the Bangor Band is who was involved in a hard fight would much prefer to have Kennedy go into his area and campaign for him.

A weakness in Symington's political armor, on which Republicans would be virtually certain to concentrate if he were chosen as the Democratic Presidential nominee next year, is that he was Secretary of the Air Force from 1947 to 1950 when the United States first began to fall behind in the development of missiles.

Symington has been loud in his charges that Russia is ahead of us and is pulling still further ahead in the missile field. There is some reason to believe that maybe Russia began its spurt while Symington was the head of the Air Force.

At The Crossroads

Budgets Operate for Good or Ill

(Printed below is the fifth of several articles to be prepared by the Newton Taxpayers' Association on various aspects of Newton's economy with special reference to taxation and its relation to land and building use in the city.)

The city's operating budget is the largest element in determining the yearly size of the tax levy blade in the property tax shears. It usually accounts for about 5/6 of Newton's yearly local tax related expenses. Unlike most households who set their operating expenses within their expected income, the city first compiles a sort of shopping list, called the budget, and then afterwards proceeds to levy the taxes needed to pay for the list.

Newton's operating budgets, except for the water department which has its own billings, have looked like this at tax rate time:

Budgets plus appropriations between tax rates ($ millions) 1946, 6.2; 1954, 13.4; 1958, 18.2.

Tax rates ($ per M. val.) 1946, 29.0; 1954, 44.50; 1958, 54.

Operating budgets have gone up at the rate of about $1 million per year since 1945, tripling in the period. Tax rates have not yet doubled, rising less rapidly because of healthy increases in the new renewed values being invested in Newton property plus another life-saver, automobiles: (same years)

Number motor vehicles (thousands) 25, 40, 46 (est.) M.V. Excise $ thousands) 78, 911, 1700.

The importance of operating budgets as they relate to land use lies in at least three aspects. First, they restrict or allow the expansion of the scope and kinds of services the city offers. Second, they finance the numbers and working conditions of the city's working force including the schools, thus providing or not as the case may be the basis for services well carried out. Third, these budgets, by being the chief variable in setting tax rates as well as service levels, can encourage or discourage new investment.

The decisions involved in the operating budgets more than any other factor except one, the use and values of the land itself, decide the overall tone of the city.

Newton by and large has provided a sufficiently broad group of services to attract new, fairly high price level investors into the city. It has furnished a sufficiently high level of compensation to employ a capable working force. Moreover by virtue of some geographic assets and social trends, plus a good batting average of sound decisions, the city so far has retained enough reserve potential, in its land uses and in the financial capacity of the citizens it still can attract, to be able to be rather selective instead of desperate in its relations with new investors.

On the other hand the diminishing margin of both the raw and profitably renewable land reserves, the essential failure to capitalize on suitable potentialities in the demand for multifamily uses over the past decade, the multiplication of tenants in older buildings without commensurate values, all coupled with the steady rise in operating costs are building up unfavorable economic and resulting social effects.

Looking forward from the present crossroads, Newton must quickly—before there is a serious drop in the rate of valuation increases—develop new policies. Every indication is that the demand for new services and for higher costs in providing all services will continue unabated. Lack of basic offsetting new revenue sources means that rising operating budgets will act more directly on the tax rates, forcing Newton's rates up so much faster that they would then present a serious deterrent to investment here. At that moment Newton would have entered the classic "vicious circle."

Suburbia-

In an exclusive interview with "Suburbia Today," he discusses the problems raised by this migration, problems no doubt experienced by many readers of this newspaper. He has an interesting solution.

Also featured in the February magazine is a breezy and informative article on a new vehicle for commuters . . . the helicopter.

The day is coming, and quickly, when you'll finish your morning coffee, kiss your wife good-bye, and be whisked off to your office by helicopter. The "8:44 Whirllybird" is good reading in today's issue of "Suburbia Today."

Women will pour over the food pages because this month they feature recipes that will come in handy for all midwinter party-givers. "Party Cookie" offers some of the most delicious and exciting ideas for fancy petit-fours or just plain cookies. And, they're all kitchen-tested and pre-tested.

There's lots more including articles on house-hunting and on the drama-packed life of a school-bus driver, "Two-four-six-eight, who do we appreciate? Busman."

Of special interest, and for easy reference, there are two pages on the latest news in books, records and movies; and "Cross Country Classified," which covers good buys for house and home; in this particular issue, everything from a bamboo planter to natural Norwegian yarn.

Readers will get a chuckle or two from "Disturbia" by Lou Schwartz. A full page of cartoons on some of the situations that come up in every suburbia.

Prospective new house buyers will find "8 Questions to Ask Yourself Before Buying a House," by Arthur Tauscher to be timely and concise.

This month's cover, by Lucille Corcos, is a delightful scene with a sly Valentine flavor. Children leave a suburban school, the Valentines they made in hand, and enter waiting cars and a school bus. We know you will enjoy this issue of Suburbia Today.

TELEVIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

To write about TV personalities in a weekly column and not devote a column to Pat Boone might get the columnist in trouble with about 80 per cent of the teen-age population plus a very large number of adults. This was a "red letter" year for Pat. His first starring TV series not only survived in a season that was particularly disastrous to TV musical programs but also gained Pat the TV editors' and critics' award as "the most promising new male star of tomorrow." His fourth daughter, Laura Goren, was born on January 30; he was graduated from Columbia University, B. S. magna cum laude, on June 2, two days after his 24th birthday; in August he completed his third movie, "Mardi Gras." On October 2, his TV show began its second season and his recordings neared the million mark.

Pat Boone grew up in Nashville, Tenn. At David Lipscomb High School, he was president of the student body, reporter and cartoonist on the newspaper, star of the dramatic and musical productions, four-letter man in sports and elected "most popular boy" in school. Although Pat Boone's TV career began in Fort Worth, Texas, in 1954 his big jump ahead came when he was "discovered" for TV by Arthur Godfrey in 1955. We would like for you to discover yourself the high quality of TV repair service you can expect at all times from our company. Our technicians are well trained and thoroughly experienced with both black and white and color TV sets. Try us next time. And don't forget, for the best values on new or used TV sets, see us first.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS . . . The seniors recently attended an assembly about dramatics. Carol Oppen, a member of the senior class herself, introduced Mrs. Mitchell from Emerson College. Mrs. Mitchell put on a few skills and illustrated some principles of drama to the class of 1959.

Gita Tamaddon, Hans Worwag, Jane Gibern, Connie Worthen, Jerry Rogell, John Derr, Phil Barry, and Edith Cohen were Newton High's representatives at the International Day held at Beaver Country Day School.

With all the many clubs at Newton High School, a need was found for one more. A new club is in the process of being organized. It will be for all students who are interested in careers in health — such as nursing, medicine, physical therapy, occupational therapy, dietetics, etc. An organizational meeting was held last week.

COLLEGE-WISE . . . More representatives of various colleges are visiting Newton High. Each representative speaks with students interested in that particular college and tries to present an all-over view of the school in about 45 minutes. During the past week or two, there were people from Wells and Lafayette Colleges. In addition, one evening there was a meeting of all those students interested in Ripon College. Ripon is a coeducational school in Wisconsin and offers a Liberal Arts Course. The meeting was held at a Newton Centre home.

Many students have already decided which college they would like to attend and the words of acceptance are coming from the colleges more and more frequently. Barry Wish was accepted at Bowdoin College. Jerry Rogell and Tom Martin were both accepted by Harvard College. Paula Zibbell and Judy Cohen are making plans to go to Simmons College next year. Many students are beginning now to watch the mails anxiously each day.

THE GREAT BIG WONDER WHIRL . . . The next Tigerama is planned for March 20. It will be on a western theme with cowboys, horses, Indians, and a rodeo in the offing.

This month's Junior Prom was based on an evening in Japan. Vinny Farina and Linda Covick headed a large committee who worked to promote the success of this annual affair. Sue Clapper and Barry Siegel headed the refreshment committee whose members were Carol Sudhalter, Lee Saltzberg, Eddie Salamoff, Janice Boudreau, Sharon Clapper, Arnie Zaff, and Burt Brooks.

Working on the entertainment committee were Jeff Lee, Barbara Indursky, Sue Jacobs, Jon Cannon, Al Lipkin, Dave Rand, Gail Dockson, Dave Shapiro, and Guy Andersen. Co-chairmen of the committee were Sheila Goren and Bob Gallagher. Mary Lee Carroll and Terry Dangel led the work of the hospital committee. Helping them were Leslie Wolbarst, Steve Anapole, Jay Alperin, Charlie Aucoin, Pat Alwood, Patty Leone, Judy Kelly, Sandy Swanson, Mary Rink, and Judy Gate. Kenny Malkin and Linda Kotzen guided the work of Sue Rice, Jane Resnick, Larry Rittenberg, Bill Anthony, Cathy Davidson, Maureen Fay, Jon Borofsky, Judy Carter, and Nancy Nelson on the publicity committee.

Sue Shapiro, Selby Hickey, Marcia Boyd, Peggy Wells and Ellen Rottenburg worked under the leadership of Judy Malone and Ed Hovey on the decorations committee. Also on that group were Linda Newman, Jane Sutherland, Alice Ullman and Roberta Vandermaison. The work committee consisted of Al York, Vinnie Simone, Ed Brewen, Lee Brown, Dave Connor, and co-chairmen Bill Skoenick and Bark Brennan.

AFTER-CLASS . . . The theatrical make-up workshop group provides make-up committees for the extra-curricular activities at Newton High School. All students are eligible for membership and the organization plans such activities as having speakers, showing films on make-up, and special training in making one's self up for the theatre. This year the group has no officers, but the student chairman is Mary Ann Schiavone. Thus far, there has been one meeting for all the members of the theatrical workshop. At that time they saw a picture on make-up as it is done by Paramount Studios in Hollywood. There will be a lecture on the effect of lighting on make-up for the entire group and one is planned on the subject of street make-up. The seniors of the group worked on the Senior Play, "Anastasia," earlier this year. From those seniors, Mary Ann Schiavone, Penny Axelrod, and Gilda Ingall were selected to work on the make-up for "Winter Set," "The Madwoman of Chailot," and "Taming of the Shrew," respectively. Those are the three Drama

Four Mishaps

Newton - Wellesley hospital, and was one of six persons injured in four highway mishaps over the weekend.

John L. DeKeory, of 4 Jenson street, Newtonville, suffered a back injury when his car collided with another, bearing Ohio plates.

Miss Patricia Bulger, 21, of 55 Austin street, Newtonville, was treated at the hospital for an abdominal injury. She was hurt when a car in which she was riding crashed into a tree on Brush Hill road, Newton Highlands.

Three out of town men were hurt in a two-car crash near 175 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill. Both cars were towed away.

Festival plays. There are now weekly meetings in preparation for the festival. This group will do the make-up work for the Arts Festival planned for the last week in March.

To give pupils who enjoy French an opportunity to speak and entertain in the French manner is the purpose of the French club. All students who have had at least one year of French are eligible for membership in this organization. Included in the activities of the group are French movies, songs and skits, French games, visits to French restaurants, slides, a Christmas party, and listening to speakers. The officers of the club this year are Harvey Creem, president; Susan Cohen, vice-president; Barbara Eskot, secretary; Nancy Fisher, treasurer; Judy Winograd, program chairman; and Marcia Wagner, refreshment chairman.

A new board has been created this year under the new constitution. It is the Activities Board and is headed by John Derr. It is in charge of most of the after-school activities. The main duty of this group is assemblies, and Carol Chandler heads the Assembly Committee which works under the Activities Board. In regard to clubs, when new clubs want to get a charter and become a permanent part of the school, they submit their plans to the legislature. The legislature in turn hands over the report to the Activities Board. The members of the board investigate the club and bring a recommendation back to the legislature. The Activities Board is now planning an activities handbook. This helpful pamphlet will contain information for club officers on how to run a club, make specific duties of club advisors, and contain all-around useful information. Recently, the board called a meeting of all club presidents. At this time a poll was taken concerning the charters, dues, constitutions, officers, and activities of each club. In addition to John and Carol, other members of the Activities Board are Phil Barry, head of the clubs committee; David Bailen, publications committee chairman; David Shaw, Sue Goldsmith, and Jon Cannon.

New York—Lung cancer deaths in the U. S. increased from only about 3,900 in 1930 to more than 27,000 in 1953.

Unique Program

Our Best Assets . . . Customers

Banking with a heart — a gay Valentine Heart — is the unique program in effect at the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company's eighteen offices now through Valentine Day, February 14. "Customer Appreciation Time" is the theme of the program and George L. White, president, stated that during this time "extra recognition will be extended to the bank's most important assets — our customers."

Commemorating the Valentine season, the local banking institution has mailed attractive Valentine cards to all its regular checking account customers expressing appreciation for their use of the bank's services.

Posters, reading "Thanks for Banking With Us," in a cheery Valentine motif, are displayed in each of the bank's 18 offices. This program was conducted last year and caused much favorable comment among the recipients of the greetings.

Hit Protestant Do-Nothing On Segregation

A young Protestant lay leader, Donald C. Howard of Newtonville, told a group of fellow Protestants at Ruggles Street Baptist Church in Boston Sunday night that the Roman Catholic Church deserved praise "for its forthright courageous stand" on the segregation question.

At the same time, Howard charged that "Protestantism in general" was guilty of "militant do-nothingism" in the field of race relations. He maintained that "Christ's universal love as expressed through us, can know no racial or creedal boundaries." Howard is Executive Secretary of the Mass. Society of Professional Engineers and long has been active in Protestant circles.

Eisenhower Sends Message

Pomroy House Hailed For 100-Year Service

A message from President Eisenhower praising the century of community work and outstanding achievement of the Rebecca Pomroy House, a Newton Red Feather agency, highlighted the annual meeting held last evening at the Community House on Hovey street. TOPS IN AUTO FIELD — Newton Auto Top Co., Inc., at 873 Walnut Street, Newton Centre, is an outstanding firm for quality materials and service. Pictured here is well equipped shop, where every top, window for convertible top, seat cover or carpet is made to order.

Newton Auto Top Caters To Satisfied Customers

Newton Auto Top Company, Inc., is kept busy these days replacing or installing seat covers for autos, convertible tops, and especially plastic rear windows for convertibles, plus rebuilding and making seat cushions like new. Ronald McGarigle and his son, Ronald Jr., and Mr. McGarigle's brother, John, make this a family enterprise, and the number of repeat customers they have built up is the firm's best asset.

All the seat covers they install are made to order, cut to exact measurements, as are the convertible tops, and the floor carpets which are a growing part of the business.

The firm uses only the very best materials in its work, and is able to match the new car carpets, cushions and so on, so that when they are finished an automobile interior looks very much as it did when brand new.

An important item, in both weatherproof and safety qualities of a convertible, is the rear windows of heavy, thick Vynal, which stays soft and clear for long periods, giving the driver a clear view through the rear window and keeping the top absolutely weather-tight.

Broken or discolored rear windows are replaced quickly at Newton Auto top, adding much to the safety and comfort of the driver. Carpets, which often wear out quickly in new cars, are replaced to look like new, and wear far better, by this firm.

A visit, or phone call to DE 2-1438, will bring further information or estimates, from this efficient, friendly firm, and top quality work for those asking it, at 873 Walnut Street, Newton Centre.

Weeks Tops Warren 46-30

However, the Warren jayvees trounced Weeks, 24-12.

Miller And Seddon Company Features Air Conditioning

One of the most forward-looking firms in the Greater Boston area is located at 2089 Mass. avenue in Cambridge, where Miller and Seddon and Company offer sales and repairs on major home appliances, particularly air conditioning and refrigeration. In addition, this progressive firm has a big jump on the field in automobile air conditioning and installation of electric home heating, and other electric heating needs.

Richard Seddon, proprietor, is especially proud of the company's top position in the two latter fields, for automobile air conditioning and electric heating are regarded as two of the major industries of the future by experts.

Auto air conditioning now can be installed expertly by this firm in any car, for about $300 outlay, and the wonderful comfort afforded is leading increasing numbers of people to purchase this great unit. And they are buying, not merely for luxury cars, but also for cars in the "low-priced three" group, whose owners report unbelievable benefits, which delight them.

"Electric home heating is our other new business," said Mr. Seddon yesterday. "It does away with pipes, radiators, boilers and other plumbing, and with the major power companies cooperating fully, is very close even now in cost to other types of heat. And power rates are steadily going down, while as everyone knows, costs of other fuels are steadily going up."

"Some of the many advantages of electric heating are as follows: it allows individual heating units in every room, which may be turned down to, say, 40 degrees in unused

Newton 10th Graders In Court Win, 46-21

Meadowbrook Jr. High School's first Pantherama was a big social success last Friday evening, but athletically Newton High's 10th graders won the basketball game, 46-21.

LEGAL NOTICE

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
MIDDLESEX, ss. PROBATE COURT
 To the Honorable the Judges of the Land of Newton in the County of Middlesex, ss. PROBATE COURT.
 Respectfully represents Catherine Doherty of Newton in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, that she is owner of a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Newton, in the County of Middlesex, bounded and described as follows:
 Being shown as Lot 25 on Manet Road, on a plan by E. S. Smille, dated July 25, 1918, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, at the end of Book 4074, bounded and described as follows:
 Northwesterly by Manet Road 70 feet;
 Northwesterly by Lot 26 on said plan 105 feet;
 Southwesterly by land now or late of E. B. Connor 29 feet, and Southwesterly by Lot 24 on said plan 105 feet.
 That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by a mortgage given by Katherine Doherty to Exchange Trust Company, dated April 12, 1923, and duly recorded Book 4002, Page 353, purporting to secure a note for $5,000, payable in one (1) year with interest quarterly, which mortgage appears to be undischarged, unassigned and unforfeited on and by the record—or not properly or legally discharged of record.
 That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage.
 That the mortgage named in and under have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years, and the expiration of time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof.
 WHEREFORE your petitioner prays that after appropriate notice a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 244 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20 of the Acts of 1924.

Smooth-Working Crooks Get Safe And $7000 Loot

Professional, smooth-working burglars, clever enough to bypass an alarm system, are blamed for theft of a 500-pound safe containing $7,000 cash and checks from the Waban Market, 10 Windsor road, Saturday night.

The manager, Thomas W. Packus, of 17 Anita circle, Waban, told police he closed the store at 8:10 p. m. The break was discovered an hour later during a routine door check by Patrolmen Ralph H. Rich and Domenick J. DeMaio.

The lower panel of the rear door was cut to bypass the burglar alarm system. They made several holes with a drill and bit, and then sawed between the holes for an opening.

The 500-pound safe was rolled on a dolly to a waiting vehicle. They left the dolly behind.

"Heart Neighbor" Drive To Be Waged Door-To-Door

Firm On Anti-Zone Changes

Petitions for proposed construction in Newton—including a $1 million medical building and an auto laundry—were taken under advisement Monday night following hearings at City Hall. Opposition to all was voiced at the hearings.

The Newton Chamber of Commerce was reported in favor of a proposed medical building and apartment house in Auburndale.

It was termed an outgrowth of the needs of physicians at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. However, Chairman Leo M. Cannon of the Claims and Rules Committee, said the city received petitions signed by some 130 residents who opposed the plan.

Opposition also was voiced against re-zoning to allow construction of a $150,000 car wash at 197-211 Washington street, Newton. Joel Kozol, of 510 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, said Newton had 44,000 autos and no car laundry.

Opponents contended establishment of the car laundry would increase the traffic hazard for children.

There was one objector to the petition of the Newton College of the Sacred Heart for permission to construct a dormitory for 154 students at 885 Centre street, Newton. Paul J. Harriman, of 230 Cot-

Gow Acquitted In Fatal Diner Fire

A West Newton man, Charles R. Gow Jr., 43, of 5 Pickwick road, has been exonerated of arson charges stemming from a $70,000 fire which destroyed a Medford restaurant he owned. Gow was acquitted by a Middlesex Superior court jury which deliberated three hours.

One man died in the fire. Two others have pleaded guilty to arson. In his defense, Gow claimed the trio set the blaze for "vengeance" after he blocked an alleged $25,000 blackmail plot.

Chances of Sales Tax Law Believed to Have Lessened

Governor Furcolo may have won a battle but lost a political war in gaining enactment of his withholding income tax bill.

Even in victory the Governor lost prestige and aroused resentment among members of his own party.

A very strong suspicion exists on Beacon Hill that Furcolo's prospects of eventually obtaining a sales tax have dimmed substantially as a result of the manner in which the withholding fight was mishandled by the Governor and his aides.

Rededication of Scouts Attracts 250 in Newton

Plans Progress For Reception To the Dennards

Plans are moving forward for the city-wide reception for School Superintendent and Mrs. Eric Dennard to be held at the Jackson Homestead Sunday afternoon, March 1, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The reception is sponsored by the School Community Relationship Committee of the Newton PTA Council. Miss Adelaide Ball, president of the Friends of the Jackson Homestead, announced her pleasure at the selection of the historic homestead as the location for the reception. A meeting was held this week to further details for the event.

Next Hearing Feb. 20 On B & A Service Cut

Friday of next week (Feb. 20) has been designated by the State Public Utilities Commission as the day on which Newton leaders and citizens may present their arguments against a petition by the Boston & Albany railroad for the right to abandon the Newton Corner station and curtail other service to this city.

Meanwhile, the Utilities Commission has not yet acted upon a request that it hold an additional hearing in Newton at night so that as many residents as possible could attend it.

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and other city officials are expected to appear before the Utilities Commission at the State House on Friday of next week to voice their objection against the proposal by the B & A for cutting down the service now provided for Newton residents.

At a hearing held in the Gardner Auditorium at the State House last week it was revealed that the B & A not only desires to eliminate all train stops at the Newton Corner station but also to inaugurate a new "skip stop" system and to cut down the number of trains operating.

The road desires to discontinue six inbound and four outbound trains which now stop at Riverside, Auburndale, West Newton and Newton Corner stations. A spokesman for the B & A estimated that it could save at least $84,841 a year if it were allowed to make the changes it is seeking.

Under the "skip stop" scheme a train that stopped at Riverside would skip Auburndale and make its next stop at West Newton. The next train would skip River-

Firemen Claim They Need $21 Weekly Boost

Copies of a special statistical report, which contend the annual salary of a Newton fireman should be $5,727, have been sent to Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. and members of the Board of Aldermen. The maximum salary now allowed is $4,575.

The statistics were compiled by the Salary Adjustment Committee of the Newton Firemen's Welfare Asso-

Distaff Army To Move City-Wide On Sunday Seeking Heart Funds

Teen-Agers To Assist In Doorbell Campaign

A dynamic, volunteer army of hundreds of dedicated Newton women, mothers, housewives, businesswomen, and augmented this year by more than 50 teen-agers, moves into high gear next Sunday afternoon to bring vividly to the doorsteps of their friends and neighbors the message of "Heart Sunday."

Under the general chairmanship of Mrs. George L. White, the 1959 effort is assuming the proportions of the most thorough and intensive city-wide doorbell drive in Newton history.

The "Heart Neighbors" will be in action throughout the city from 12 noon until 3 p.m., and will carry on regardless of weather conditions.

Come snow, rain, sleet, or sunshine, and with a complete disregard for temperature fluctuations, high or low, the volunteers will ring doorbells and seek contributions. Thus, Newton joins the great nationwide campaign to provide needed funds to further the programs of research, education and community services in the fight against the great contemporary killer — heart disease.

No quota has been established for the Newton drive but donations already received through the "Advance

"Brotherhood" Week Announced By Newton Mayor

"Brotherhood Week" in Newton, February 15 through 22, has been proclaimed by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., with social, religious, fraternal and veteran organizations expected to participate in the city-wide observance.

William Carmen, Newton chairman, announced last night that special exercises will be held in the Newton schools where the wholehearted cooperation of Superintendent Eric Dennard has been assured.

There will be a general discussion of the Brotherhood Week theme in social study classrooms and at special school assemblies throughout the week.

Religious and private schools also will devote time for the brotherhood facet of American life. Veteran and community service organizations plan to emphasize brotherhood at their February meetings.

Chairman Carmen has announced that speakers from the National Conference of Christians and Jews are available to any local organizations. It also is expected that churches and temples in Newton will have special sermons and exercises in keeping with the special "week."

Newton Solons Recorded Against Withholding Bill

If you get a shock when the State starts taking a double income tax bite out of your pay check next week, don't blame your own legislators in either the State Senate or House of Representatives.

All five Newton legislators — State Senator Donald L. Gibbs and Representatives John W. Whittemore, George E. Rawson, Irene K. Thresher and Arthur G. Heaney — voted against the withholding tax law in the form sought by Governor Furcolo.

Nab 2 For Three House Breaks

The arrest of two youths in Brookline last week cleared up breaks in three Newton dwellings where the loot included four TV sets, a sound projector, a radio and a typewriter.

Harold L. Goggins, 22, and Robert R. Malloy, 19, both of Boston, were charged with robbing homes at 1367 Beacon street, Waban; 12 Ferncroft road, Waban and 81 Lakeview avenue, Newton Highlands.

Police said Goggins and Malloy also were charged with breaks in Belmont, Needham, Milton and Canton.

Map Plans For 9th Annual Science Fair In Newton

The Ninth Annual Science Fair in the Newton schools will be held in the high school gymnasium on April 8, and will be open to the public from 2:45 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Announcement of the date was made by the co-chairmen of this year's fair, Mrs. Ouida Bailey and Charles Bodman, members of the science faculty at Newton High School.

Dr. Albert Navez, head of the Science Department at Newton High School, in summarizing the viewpoint of educators as to the value of science fairs, said:

"Working out and exhibiting a project gives a student an opportunity to study thoroughly his particular interest in science.

"The science fair further serves as an opportunity for scrutinizing potential future scientists and for motivating them in the best available ways."

Projects which exhibit work in any phase of science may be submitted by students in the following schools: Newton High, Newton Technical High, the five Newton Junior Highs, and Newton Junior College.

88 Club Will Meet Sunday

Richard White of Newtonville will be the host at the next meeting of the 88 Club to be held Sunday.

Miss Carol Stein, program chairman, will lead a discussion of the composer, Joseph Haydn. Piano solos will be played by Sarah Frost, Natalie White, Carol Fanger, Donna Goldman, Ellen Berman, Marsha Gerson and Carol Stein. ## Four Cong. Church Choirs To Unite In Grand Hymn Festival

Choirs from four local Congregational Churches will unite in a Hymn Festival Sunday evening, at 7:30 at the Second Church in Newton, Highland St., West Newton.

Choirs from Second Church, The First Church in Newton, North Church and Central Church, Newtonville, will combine to present a program of anthems based on familiar hymn tunes as they appear in a revised edition of the Pilgrim Hymnal, The Congregational hymn book, published this fall.

A brass choir and organ will accompany and will render several chorale preludes. The congregation will join in the singing of several of the hymns.

During the service, Dr. Ross Cannon will lead in the dedication of the new hymnals which have just been purchased by Second Church from its Memorial Fund. Dr. Cannon, the minister of Second Church, has served as a member of the special committee which has been working for five years in preparing the revised edition of the hymnal. This edition retains the best of the tunes found in earlier editions, together with many new hymns by contemporary composers and from hymnals of other denominations.

Ivar Sjoström, Director of Music at Second Church, will play the organ; and Marshall Wilkins, Director of Music at Central Church, will conduct the anthems.

Assisting will be Mrs. Edwin Folsom, Director of Music at North Church, and Ralph MacLean, Director of Music at First Church.

The public is invited to attend this festival, to become acquainted with the new hymnal and to join in the singing.

Cookie Sale-

If their sale is successful, it will help provide better facilities for their camps, Mary Day and Wabasso, and camperships, that is camp scholarships for many Newton Girl Scouts who could not afford a camping trip. In addition, for each box of cookies sold, the troops will receive a portion of the profit for improving their programs.

Some members of Junior and Senior High School troops will sell cookies in Newton stores. Plans for the Cookie Sale were made at a "kick-off" morning coffee last Thursday, at the Highlands Workshop in Newton Highlands, with Mrs. William Endlar, city-wide chairman presiding. Mrs. Paul Mavrides, order chairman and Mrs. Claire Pontius, treasurer of Cookie Sale, instructed the neighborhood cookie chairmen on the proper procedure.

Mrs. Dwight P. Merrill, New president of the Newton Girl Scouts, extolled the adults interested and helping in the sale, including mothers of the Girl Scouts, saying that they were the key people in making Scouting a worthwhile experience for girls.

She emphasized the fact that it was highly important to help the girls understand the reasons why they are selling the cookies, and to give "concrete answers" to their questions. She stated that the qualities they develop from Girl Scout selling help them to become good citizens.

Mrs. Nathan D. Bugbee, a vice president of the Council, explained the importance of the cookie sale in raising funds for such expenses, as camping, that are not met by the grant from the Community Chest.

Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, member of the permanent camping committee, and mother of Betty Anderson, who won a free summer encampment with four other U.S. Girl Scouts at the G.S. Chalet in Switzerland, stressed the importance of the cookie sale for improving the camping program.

Miss Betty Richardson, executive director of Newton Girl Scouts, closed the meeting, pointing out that the significance of the sale lies in what the children learn from it, and that parents should take responsibility in helping their daughters with the sale.

The following neighborhood cookie chairmen attended: Mrs. Carl Fisher, Mrs. Mitchell E. Phillips, Mrs. Wm. Halliday, Mrs. Norman Altman, Mrs. Warren Huston, Mrs. Edward Fillurin, Mrs. Harry Weiner, Mrs. Rita Gorelick, Mrs. David Bernstein, Mrs. Robert Henley, Mrs. Dominic Strazula, Mrs. John Dunnigan, Mrs. George Richardson, Mrs. Sleme Tesoriero, Mrs. Edw. Burns, Mrs. Theodore Lilly, Mrs. Eugene Broudy, Mrs. Gregory Sullivan, Mrs. Arnold Teperow, and Mrs. Herbert Diamond.

Headlights And Highlights From Newton High School

HIGHLIGHTS . . . At a P.T.A. meeting last week, the subject, "If I Had Newton High to do Over Again," was very ably discussed by these recent NHS graduates: Renee Beeuwker and Sandy Douglas, Class of '58, now at Harvard and Wellesley, respectively; Allen Martin, '57, now at Harvard; Nancy Erickson, Class of '57, and working for the Newton School System, and Sandra Borkum now student teach at N.H.S. and previously a graduate of N.H.S. and Vassar. The program proved beneficial to students presently at NHS and to parents who will soon have sons and daughters at the high school. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Recently elected sophomore representatives to the P. T. S. A. were Judy Ballen and Steven Egbert. They will represent their class at the meeting of the P. T. S. A. board and at other functions. Betty Anderson, a senior, has been selected to represent Region One, (which includes all of New England) at the Girl Scout Chalet in Switzerland. Betty will travel to Europe this summer.

The sophomores had the opportunity to listen to an S. Block filled with the music of the Navy Band. This assembly was given last year to the juniors and was so successful that the Navy-men were asked back again this year.

Mr. Howe spoke on a radio program concerned with education. With an ex-Boston Latin School teacher, he discussed some points in Admiral Hyman Rickover's new book. The main problem was that of cramming the student with facts in preparation for college versus an all-round, general knowledge type of secondary school education.

A week ago today brought report cards to the Newton High scene once again. The cards were marked for the second time by the IBM system, which is becoming more effective with practice.

The achievement of Mary Auryansen, Jane Gilbern, Carol Isenberg, Thomas Martin, Gerald Rogell, and Linda Jane Rubin on the October 21 Scholarship Qualifying Test has made them eligible to qualify as finalists for National Honor Society Scholarships. 45,548 National Honor Society members participated in the exam and 2,513 qualified as finalists. These finalists will take an hour and a half General Aptitude Test on March 10.

In a few years regular English high school classes will be taught by means of a full year course on television. The program is being planned by the "Council for a Television Course in the Humanities for Secondary Schools," and will be devoted to teaching students in the eleventh grade. It will feature over one hundred half-hour lessons. These lessons will be filmed for public and closed circuit television broadcasts, and for projection as 16mm pictures. Printed editions of the books that go along with the course will be made. The administrative staff is headed by Mr. Rinker of Newton High.

The three basic ideas of the program are to stimulate the student's creative and critical intelligence, improve his communication skills, and give him an introductory awareness of Western civilization. The courses will be taught by various teachers and feature groups of artists to assist in special lessons. The program is scheduled for national distribution for the year after next.

The High School Legislature became the first member of The Newton High School Foster Child Council which consists of representatives of clubs and organizations throughout the school. The dues are $6.00 per year. It costs $15 per month to support the little Italian girl, Maria Cazzella, who will be Newton High's foster child this year. Maria, almost in her teens, is growing up in the depressed city of Leverano. Her father died three years ago. Over fifteen groups in the school have already joined this council and about the same number again is still needed. The council will receive the duplicated letters from Maria and write letters to be sent to her. Harold Colan has been active organizing this group.

JOTS AND DASHES . . . The Newtonian, which costs $2.50 with an S.A.T. and $3.50 for those students without one, has sold very well in the recent circulation drive. Newtonian representatives from the home-rooms are Janice Morrison, William Balken, Natalie Blacker, Linda Brauning, Patricia Burke, Barbara Casey, Harvey Chasen, Sue Draisin, Kenneth Cummins, Mara Egglis David Fox, Esta Gordon, Elizabeth Gutman, Paul Horowitz, Betty Josephson, Mike Karagosian, Richard Lockwood, Elizabeth Little, Thomas McManmon, Lorenz Meuther III, Helaine Morris, Ingrid Mickelsen, Steven Roser, Richard Selleck, Scott Silliman, Beverly Sokol, Barbara Swanton, Jimmie Nein, Daniel Wood, Kenneth Ackman, Carol Bonberger, Susan Bluestein, Susan Callender, Mike Brodlieb, Bonnie Bishop, Ann Davidson, Marcia Epstein, Priscilla Firger, Nancy Gibson, Barbara Gordon, Robert Greeley, Elizabeth Nam, Sylvia Huberman, Jerry Kaplan, Nancy Kuhns, Gretchen Lillis, Maureen Magid, Catherine McDonough, Jeane McGuffin, Richard Nelson, Maureen Murray, Ruth Brien, Bruce Perry, Joan Popper, Susan Rice, Eileen Rotenberg, Andrea Schwartz, Richard Siegel, Rosalie Siegal, Martha Tepper, Alice Ulman, Robert Vanderklisch, Barbara Yoffe, Priscilla Beckwith, Edward Brown, Diane Cabitt, Linda Cohen, Mike Feldman, Alan Finkelstein, Martha Evans, James Gorin, Harriet Hoffman, Bob Kemler, Toni Kadetcky, Deanna Klein, Elaine Kramer, Kevin McMullin, Linda McKenney, Myra Natol, Marie Pelagioni, Mary Polagruto, Charlie Render, Louis Shapiro, Gary Sneerson, Susan Tucker, and Roberta Zakon.

Thirty-seven Newton High journalism students along with two teachers visited the Boston Globe building last month. The students saw how photographs are made into printed pictures; how advertising copy is set up; how the rotary printing plates for the presses are made; how the editorial department works.

The Christian Science Monitor reprinted a story that originally appeared in the Newtonite. The story explained the paperback books that are on sale in the high school library. Very surprisingly, about forty books are sold each day and about 2000 books have been sold since school began.

THE MARQUEE . . . At the Music Club's meeting last month, Tony Saletan, who sings folk songs on television and radio was featured. Many students were present for the entertainment.

The Drama Festival will be presented in the NHS auditorium tomorrow night. The three competing plays will vie for the honor of representing the high school at the regional festival. In the "Madwoman of Chailot" are Kay Dennard as Irma; Carol Oppen as the Countess; Marcia Bailey as Constance; Dorothy Lee Gurvitz as Gabrielle; Kerstin Farre as Josephine; Stephen Greenblatt as the ragpicker; Bob Welch as the sewerman; and Ken Ackerman, Steve Goldberg, Milton Itelman, and Howard Gorney as the vagrants. Judy Malone is the student director. Dave Mersky is Mio; Peggy Wells, Miriamline; Dan Krim-

The Heart Fund

Surgical and medical miracles which would have been believed impossible 10 or a dozen years ago are being performed almost daily as a result of the tremendous progress in the field of research which has been made possible by contributions to the Heart Fund.

Countless thousands of men and women with heart conditions are leading normal lives who would have died except for the great advances which could not have been achieved had the Heart Fund not been in existence.

It wasn't so many years ago that a sudden heart attack was regarded as tantamount to a death sentence.

Now, thanks to the strides medical science has been able to make, doctors and surgeons have new means of treating and repairing damaged hearts.

Notwithstanding the great gains which have been made, there is still much more to be accomplished by the studies of the human heart which research experts are continually pursuing, for diseases of the heart are still the nation's No. 1 killer.

That's why your donations to the current Heart Fund drive are so vital and necessary. The dollars contributed in the past have saved and prolonged human lives. The dollars donated to the current Heart Fund drive could save or prolong your life or the life of a loved one.

When the men and women volunteers make their rounds on Heart Sunday, they will be working for the protection of every one of us.

Political Highlights

yielded too early to the appeals and demands from the Governor's office for a vote in the Senate on the withholding issue, the measure would have been rejected and Furcolo would have suffered a humiliating defeat.

When Furcolo sent his withholding bill to the Legislature, it was expected that it would be approved and back on his desk for his signature in about a week. It took a lot longer than a week to obtain the passage of the measure, and except for Powers it probably would not have been passed at all.

In the course of the withholding battle the Governor and his aides not only succeeded in generating large quantities of public confusion but also ran into opposition in the Senate and managed to arouse the hostility and indignation of a substantial number of House Democrats.

When Furcolo backed down and agreed to revise his bill so that the cities and towns would get a portion of the withholding proceeds during the second half of the year, it became very clear that neither the Governor nor any of his lieutenants can crack a whip and make the Democratic Senators dance. The Senators, it seems, don't wear their dancing shoes to the State House.

Powers, in fact, publicly served notice that there would be no whipping of Senators while he was president of the body.

That has made quite an impact upon the House Democrats who were whipped into line, were told to vote first and think afterwards and were ordered to pass the bill in the precise form in which it was submitted to them.

After the measure had been steamrollered through their chamber, the House Democrats then saw the bill stymied in the Senate until the Governor yielded to demands that it be changed.

The Senate Democrats did what the House Democrats had been told they couldn't do, namely amend the withholding bill, and the Senators can claim credit for the fact that local communities will get a share of the withholding windfall during the second half of the year.

The House Democrats also learned that the tactics used on them would not be tolerated in the Senate.

That undoubtedly will result in a widening and strengthening of the rebellion already staged by one group of Democratic members of the House of Representatives.

The so-called revolt by a bloc of House Democrats was more than a protest against the party leadership in the lower legislative chamber. It was in reality an uprising against Governor Furcolo and the iron-fisted methods he and his advisors have tried to employ.

Speaker John F. Thompson wasn't even presiding over the House when the withholding bill was jammed through. He was in the hospital at the time. Representative Cornelius F. Kiernan, who wielded the gavel in Thompson's place, was merely carrying out the Governor's orders.

The uprising wasn't confined to a group of freshman members, as is the impression in some quarters. A number of veteran legislators make no secret of their resentment against the tactics of the Furcolo administration. Among them are such well respected Democrats as Representatives Charles R. Doyle of West Roxbury, John T. Tynan of South Boston and James Kelley of Roxbury.

They expressed themselves in most forceful fashion when Speaker Thompson hurriedly called a Democratic House caucus in an attempt to smooth out the bitterness which had developed in the body over which he presides.

Governor Furcolo, who just six weeks ago appeared to have the reins of the State government firmly in his hands and who seemed to be in a position to get the Legislature to do just about what he wished, is not in nearly as strong a position today.

While the details of Furcolo's sales tax bill have been virtually perfected, the Governor is very likely to allow an extended cooling-off period before he moves into any showdown fight on the proposal.

He will need one to try to strengthen his own position, to regain some of the prestige he has lost and to improve his relations with the Legislature which have deteriorated in amazing fashion in a few short weeks.

A sales tax bill almost surely would be beaten down if a vote were taken on one today.

Whether Governor Furcolo, who alternately is about the best and the worst political salesman the Democratic party in Massachusetts has known in a long time, can do a sufficiently good selling job to put across the sales tax proposal is a question that only future developments will answer.

Political timing would seem to dictate that the sales tax fight be postponed until after April 1 because public opinion is not likely to be very favorable toward any new taxes during the period wage-earners are groaning and grumbling under the impact of the double bite the State will be taking out of their pay envelopes.

Governor Furcolo will be confronted with another financial crisis all over again if he loses the sales tax battle.

The passage of the withholding bill gave him a gimmick with which to balance the State budget for the fiscal year ending June 30 and will produce some additional revenue for the next fiscal year starting July 1.

But it will not provide enough money to get him through his two-year term.

Republican leaders on Beacon Hill — Frank S. Giles in the House and Fred I. Lamson in the Senate — now are sitting back in a much more powerful position than they held at the beginning of the year.

They know that Furcolo will be unable to obtain the passage of a sales tax unless he gets substantial GOP support, and they will not give him the help he needs unless he drafts a bill which meets their approval.

Giles and Lamson, who have been organizing their forces in effective fashion, will probably offer a program of their own and give Governor Furcolo the choice of taking it or nothing.

For one thing they're likely to insist on substantial reductions in Governor Furcolo's budget which is about $100 million greater than the budget for the last year of former Governor Herter's administration.

If they agree to any sales tax bill, they'll undoubtedly insist that the bulk of the taxes collected be distributed back to the cities and towns and that safeguards be written into the law so that the State can't increase its share of the sales tax take and reduce the amount the local communities would get.

It is ironic that Governor Furcolo, with the greatest strength the Democratic party ever has held in the Massachusetts Legislature, probably will be obliged to sit down and reach a compromise with Republican leaders in order to straighten out the State's financial problems.

That, however, appears to be the case. The indications are that if the sales tax were put to a vote in the House right now it wouldn't get as much support as when it was defeated in 1957.

McCormack Ruling Wipes Out Automobile Warranty Racket

A ruling by Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., should save persons buying used automobiles from being victimized and mulcted by out-of-state corporations which in the past have sold "warranty certificates" guaranteeing specified parts in cars.

For a $50 fee thousands of used car owners have purchased what amounted to an insurance policy guaranteeing that certain parts of their automobiles would be repaired or replaced if they broke down under normal use within a year.

One or two of the companies selling the policies or "warranty certificates" made good on them. The vast majority, however, did not, and thousands of persons discovered they had been swindled out of the $50 fees they had paid.

Now McCormack has ruled that the corporations selling the "warranty certificates" must function as legitimate insurance companies subject to Massachusetts law so they can be compelled to make good on the policies they sell.

McCormack emphasizes, incidentally, that the companies, some of them a fly-by-night nature, operated entirely independently of the automobile agencies and that in some instances automobile dealers tried unsuccessfully to protect their customers and force the insurance firms to do what their policies had promised they would do.

Hunnell Club Valentine Dance Saturday Night

The Hunnwell Club's gala event of the season, the Valentine Dinner Dance, will be held Saturday at the Club on Edredge street, starting with dinner at 7 p.m. Dancing follows from 8 to 12 to Marchand's music.

Members look forward to this affair because so many former members return for a festive evening with friends and guests from near and far.

Mrs. L. Tilmann McDaniel heads the committee in charge of arrangements. She is assisted by Mrs. Vincent F. Leahy, Mrs. George St. Clair, Mrs. Richard H. Lovell, Mrs. Kenneth E. Gleason, Mr. Julius L. Mason, Harry Crosby, Mason H. Stone Jr., and Kenneth L. Yukes.

Fine for WN Man Ends Crash-Chase

Fines totaling $185 were imposed on Thomas Mullaney, 31, of 156 River street, West Newton, who pleaded guilty before Judge Gardner W. Russell in Newton District Court Friday to a series of charges.

A high speed chase in Newton and Waltham ended in a collision of Mullaney's car with a police cruiser, causing injuries to the two officers.

Patrolman Joseph A. Arnold suffered a neck injury and Patrolman William C. Olds suffered an injury to his left arm.

Mullaney also was given a suspended sentence of six months in the House of Correction.

"Homemakers" Being Sought In This City

A renewed appeal for women who are interested in becoming Homemakers in Newton has been issued by the Homemaker Recruitment Committee of the Newton Community Council. Mrs. Raymond W. Blaisdell, chairman of the Newton Homemaker Committee, announced this week.

Letters have been sent to all the Newton churches and a number of other local groups who the committee feels may be able to help recruit women for Homemaker Service.

A Homemaker is a temporary replacement for the mother of the family in time of illness, death or other family emergencies. She is sent to the home, usually where there are children, to care for them, see that they are properly clothed, fed and generally supervised and that the home is running smoothly.

Homemakers work generally an eight hour day, but sometimes less, for a few days or a few weeks depending on the family situation.

Women who are Homemakers are employed by the Family Service Association of Greater Boston. This Red-Feather Agency receives requests for Homemaker service, selects and assigns homemakers to the home, determines how long a homemaker will stay in the home, explores the financial arrangements with the family, pays the homemaker and provides her with general supervision.

Both part-time and full-time Homemakers are being sought in Newton at this time. Along with an hourly rate of pay, travel pay and pro-rated vacations, depending on the amount of time worked, are provided.

Anyone interested in this work is urged to contact either Mrs. Blaisdell (DE 2-9344) or the Homemaker Service Dept. of the Family Service Ass'n of Greater Boston (LA 3-7525).

Jackson Open House Event

Abraham Lincoln and the Jackson Homestead will have a combined celebration of their 150th Anniversaries this Sunday at the Homestead's Open House, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Visitors are cordially invited to drop in at this familiar Newton Corner landmark at 527 Washington street.

Of special interest is the exhibit of priceless Lincoln and Longfellow pieces arranged by Claude E. Simmonds of Newton, whose well-known collection of "Lincolnia" includes many rare items.

Visitors will have a chance to see original Brady photographs of Lincoln in 1864; the last picture taken of Lincoln and his son Tad; John Wilkes Booth; a small piece of the bandage worn on that fatal night; a replica of the log cabin birthplace, made from wood cut on the farm; some "Wild Cat" money; a signed picture of Jefferson Davis; Longfellow's quill pen and candle holder; signed First and Second Editions of "Tales of a Wayside Inn" and a photo showing the Inn in 1864; an illustrated edition of "The Village Blacksmith"; Alice Longfellow's music; and other mementoes of an earlier American era. Nor has Cupid been neglected.

Delightful and sentimental Valentines of the 1800's add the perfect touch to make this a made-to-order February exhibit.

Girl Scouts in old fashioned costumes, and hostesses in each room will add their usual friendly touch to the festivities. There will be refreshments after a tour of the charming old rooms.

Hostesses on Mrs. William D. Wellock's committee are Miss Doris Boothby, Miss Anne E. Bunker, Miss Theresa L. Cram, Mrs. Walter Frost, Mrs. Herbert F. Hofstedt, Mrs. Malcolm N. Jackson, Mrs. Victor Morgan, Mrs. John B. G. Palen, Mrs. Herbert L. Stevens, and Miss Lucy A. Turner.

Robbers Get $875 In Newton Breaks

A daylight robbery at a West Newton residence and burglaries in a restaurant, gas station and a shed were investigated last week by Newton police.

Thieves apparently used a skeleton key to enter the home of Mrs. Jenny Dellacchi at 85 Warwick road. They ransacked the bedrooms and found $875, most of which had been in a chest in the master bedroom.

Route patrolmen apparently frightened away a thief who broke into the Midnight Lunch, at 719 Washington street, early Friday. Nothing was stolen, but a lock on the double doors had been forced. The desk and cash drawer of the Gulf Station at 1 Park street, Newton, had been forced. Four boxes of signal flares were stolen from a shed in the rear of a home at 49 Cottage street, Newton Upper Falls.

Where You Save DOES Make a Difference

By DON HEROLD

THE "SAVINGS" ROAD LEADS TO HAPPINESS

You have 3 choices to make with every dollar you get over and above the cost of living.

Notice I didn't say "high living." You can easily spend all your extra dollars by living too well. Or you can speculate with them on anything from a horse race to a questionable common stock.

One sure, safe, sensible thing you can do with dollars is to put them for safekeeping in 70-year-old Watertown Federal, where you will get back 100 cents for every dollar, and also earn good dividends.

"I saw a chart which showed that a home costing $6000 in 1941 would cost $19,000 to replace in 1958. Household goods costing $3000 in 1941 would cost $6600 to replace in 1958. Should fire insurance values be checked at renewal time to be sure of full value coverage to avoid a disastrous loss?"

J.W.S. Cox Will Be Guest Artist At Next Meeting

J. W. S. Cox, known for his mastery of the "wet technique" of water color painting, will be the guest artist at the next meeting of the Newton Art Association to be held at the Newtonville Library on Thursday evening, February 19th.

Mr. Cox, who studied at the Pratt Institute with Othon Friez and also at the Academie Colarossie in Paris, is also well known for his successful painting tours to Italy, France, Switzerland and England. He is conducting another painting tour this summer from July 3rd to August 23rd — concentrating on the most picturesque towns in each country.

Before starting the "Paint in Italy" tours, Mr. Cox has successfully operated his own summer school in Rockport, Mass. and has been instructor in the New England School of Art in Boston and is now its Director of Training.

The Boston Museum of Fine Arts has twice purchased Mr. Cox's work for its permanent collection, and his paintings may be found in many private collections in the United States, Switzerland, England and Central and South America.

The Newton Art Association has many "1 man shows" at the Newton Banks during February.

Martha Pate O'Brien at the Newton Waltham Bank in Newton Centre; Robert Decker exhibits oils at the West Newton Co-operative Bank; Chester Reid shows landscapes in oil at the West Newton Savings Bank; Ruth Palmer is showing portraits and flower paintings at the Newton Highlands Branch of the Newton National Bank; Sherwood Blodgett exhibits watercolors at the Newtonville Branch of the Newton National Bank; Roy Randall is showing oils and watercolors at the Newton Co-operative Bank; Thomas Eaton exhibits at the Newton National Bank and George and Mary Bigelow at the Newton National Bank in Watertown.

More than 50 young people will work out of the Nesson residence, 1063 Commonwealth avenue, as headquarters during the Sunday afternoon operations. Miss Nesson, assisted by William Doyle, as her chief captain, recruited the teen organization and will be in charge of it on Sunday.

On Heart Sunday..

Give for every Heart You Love

Next Sunday is Heart Sunday. It is the day to put out the welcome mat for a very special visitor.

Your caller will be a Heart Fund volunteer—probably a neighbor whom you already know. She will leave her own fireside to see you and enlist your support in the fight against heart disease.

Chances are she will ring your doorbell sometime between the hours of noon and 4 p.m.

So welcome her with a friendly smile and a warm handclasp.

Just place your Heart Fund gift in the envelope she hands you.

Seal the envelope. No need to say how much you give. But let your contribution represent every member of your family—a gift for every heart you love.

Now return the sealed envelope to her. Your Heart Association will use your contribution to fight heart disease through research... through professional and public education... and through community heart programs.

GIVE
Give for every heart you love!

Tech Edges Newton In State Meet By 2 Points; Smith Wins

Everybody conceded that Rindge Tech's powerful relay team would clinch the Class A event in the State Meet at Boston Garden Saturday. It was the final event, and the surprise Newton High trackmen were

IF the Orange could pick up second place in the relay, they could tie the powerful Technicians. But it wasn't in the cards.

Rindge Tech won all right, but the baton-delivery boys from Malden and Boston English weren't to be denied, and Newton finished fourth.

So the final standing was Rindge Tech 31 and Newton 29.

Newton led all the way in the thriller. The nine points picked up Friday night in the shotput when Gary Snerson and Dick Abrams finished first and second, gave them a flying start.

As expected, Capt. Larry Smith, the B.A.A. schoolboy champ, successfully defended the State Meet sprint crown he won last year, and gave Newton a first in the 50-yard dash. The Tiger leader is undefeated in competition this season.

The Newton team, as a whole, showed unexpected strength. Dick Hession contributed an unexpected second in the 45 yard hurdles behind Bill Hufnagle of Boston Tech; Don Claflin finished in a tie for 2nd in the high jump, and Francis Woodbridge battled to a surprise second place in the 1000-yard run.

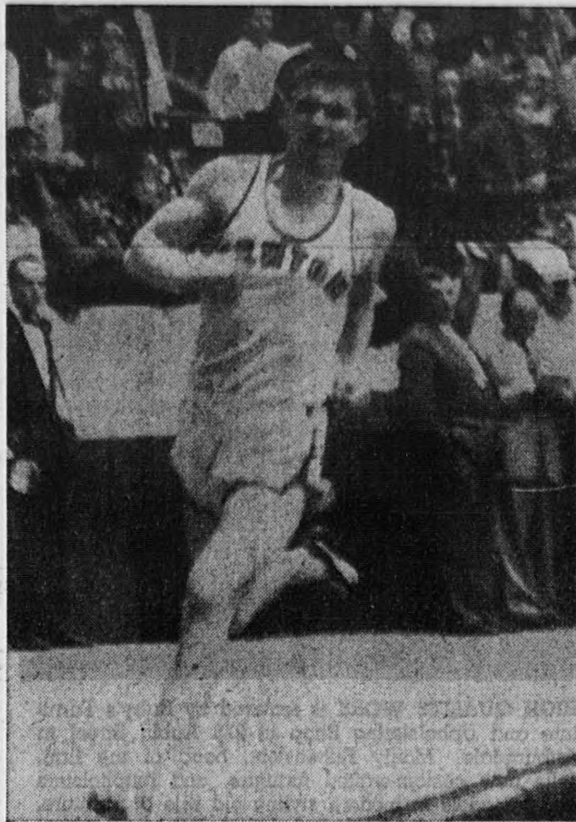

It was the third race of the indoor season in which Woodbridge participated, and from the standpoint of the spectators, this event proved the top thriller of the meet.

Woodbridge ran on top all the way. He took the lead at the second lap to pass Pete Carman of Brookline. The maneuver slightly upset Tech's ace, Bruce Grigsby, who had been holding back. Grigsby had to call on all his reserve, and won the time award in 2:25.1.

Four To Get Certificates

Four Newton residents will receive certificates from the Boston Chapter Inc., American Institute of Banking at a Hilton Statler dinner tomorrow evening.

They are Raymond J. McCarthy, 435 Albermarle road, Newtonville; William O. Wise Jr., 6 Richard circle, West Newton; Anne M. Lynch, 1784 Washington street, Auburn-dale, and Allan J. MacCormack, 124 Crafts street, Newtonville.

THIS WAS A THRILLER — The most thrilling race of the State Schoolboy Track meet at Boston Garden Saturday afternoon saw Frank Woodbridge of Newton edged by Bruce Grigsby of Rindge Tech in the Class A 1000-yard run. Woodbridge took the lead, above, in the fourth lap, but Grigsby came from behind in the last 50 yards to win. Only 15 yards separated the six runners and five different runners led at one time during the race which one official called "the best seeded race of the day."

Newton High's Drama Festival Tomorrow Nite

The 1959 Drama Festival at Newton High School reaches a climax at 7 p.m. tomorrow with three plays in competition for the honor to represent Newton in the Massachusetts Drama Festival, March 6-7, at John Hancock Hall.

Three plays will be in competition: Winterset, a modern vehicle starring Peggy Wells and Dave Merseky; The Madwoman of Chailot, 18th century French, starring Carol Oppen and Dorothy Gurvitz; and The Taming of the Shrew, Elizabethan English, starring Lee Milner and Rowena Balos.

Over one hundred students have been working steadily on the various committees which assist the casts. Coaching of the casts has been under direction of William Spink and Miss Helen Ryan of the faculty.

In the past, Newton High School has won the Massachusetts title three times, including last year, when the winning play was Green Pastures.

In order to qualify for the competition on the state level, the student actors of the play that is selected tomorrow will have to triumph in a regional dramatic contest to be held Saturday, February 21.

Stoneham Slugs Newton Hockey Team, 4 to 1

Newton High's skaters are pointing for Saturday's game with second place Melrose in the next-to-final game of the season in the GBI Hockey League at Boston Arena ice.

And after Melrose, there is Arlington in the finale. And that won't be a picnic either, as Arlington occupies the top rung with a three-point lead over Melrose.

Newton lost a tough one last weekend when Defense-man Bob Antonucci scored three goals to lead Stoneham to a 4 to 1 win over Newton. Newton's lone score came at 3:02 in the second period when Pete Sahlm tallied on a pass from Pete Thompson and Mark Lancaster.

Stoneham's goalie Ken Cataldo had 18 saves, and Joe Reingold for Newton had 10 stops.

Riggs Flower Shop at 2036 Commonwealth Avenue in Auburndale is in one of its busiest weeks of the year at present, with the Valentine's Day business bringing a steady procession of customers, new and of long standing.

James B. Riggs and his wife, Harriet, are the proprietors of this very beautiful shop, where all kinds of wanted flowers are kept in stock, garden-fresh and ready for instant delivery.

And delivery in their case does not mean merely local, but anywhere in the world since Riggs Shop is a member of the nationally known Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, and can send flowers with any kind of a message desired, on short notice.

With a little more time, the sender may send a personal card or note to delight the recipient.

This week, of course, the highlighted items on the list are violets, roses, plants of every variety and size, corages, cut flowers and all the lovely specialties of the Valentine season in heart shaped boxes and other appropriate containers. "Flowers for all occasions" is the motto of the Riggs firm, which has since 1910 been operating successfully in the area. The firm was founded by Mr. Riggs' father in 1910, and has been carried on by his son for the past two decades.

The Riggs Shop is open from 8:30 to 6 p.m. daily and on Sundays from 9 to 12 noon and welcomes either visitors or orders by phone to BI 4-1271.

TELEVIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

If you could take a tour through a modern TV set manufacturing plant, you'd get a pretty good idea of what is meant by "precision engineering." Every job is important in the making of a TV set, from the original design of the TV circuit to the soldering of the smallest resistor and the final assembly.

Research has shown that the chance of failure of the many components in a TV set is greatest during the first hour or so of use, because of the heat generated at that time. That's why today's fine TV set undergoes final tests under trying conditions at the factory will occur there, not in your living room. Add this final "test run" to the elaborate system of checks that are made all along the assembly line, and you'll see why today's quality set is worth its weight in better performance.

A set that has been in use for a long while and breaks down needs the same kind of thorough and accurate testing that a set gets in the factory . . . and we have the modern testing equipment to give your set that kind of service when it's needed. People have shown that they are happy with our service. They have a way of returning when they receive expert work and are treated fairly. Our business has continued to grow on this principle. Why don't you join our group of satisfied customers today? Remember, we sell everything we service and our prices are more than competitive, particularly when coupled with our reliable service and fair prices.

Whether you define a bargain as an "advantageous purchase." By patronizing Lee Loumos for sales as well as service you are assured of an "advantageous purchase" right in your own neighborhood.

Local Couples Meet Castro's "Bearded Boys"

Two Newton couples have returned from a 13-day West Indies cruise aboard the S. S. Homeric, including close-up meetings with some of the men of Castro's Army in Havana.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Aborn, of 65 Jane road, Newton, and Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Donahue, of 272 Highland Avenue, Newton Highlands, visited Havana, Cuba, on their itinerary.

They reported everything orderly in the Cuban capital, with the famed "bearded boys" of the Castro Army taking in the night spots and showing eagerness to hob-nob with American tourists.

The Newton travelers also visited St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; Curacao, Port-au-Prince, Haiti; and Jamaica, as well as Havana.

They also had the unique experience of watching from the boat deck as their ship warped into the North River by reason of the tugboat strike.

Big Open House At Coyne E & T School Feb. 23

The Coyne Electrical & Technical School, sixty-three-year-old Boston institution specializing in teaching electricity and industrial electronics, is conducting its annual "Open House" at 100 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, on Monday, February 23, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This will provide an excellent opportunity for high school seniors, parents, guidance directors, vocational counselors, veterans and other interested parties to inspect the facilities of the Coyne shops.

While seeing in actual operation a great array of modern electrical equipment and the latest electronic devices, they will be able to ask questions and ascertain what Coyne can contribute toward equipping men for a sound, secure and satisfying career as skilled technicians in the industry.

They may also learn about the actual placement of Coyne graduates in thirty-four different categories, and of the tremendous demand for trained men in the dynamic electronic industry.

Because of the pressure on schools of higher learning, many parents are finding it advantageous to make advance plans for enrollment of their sons for Coyne training in September, 1959.

The Coyne School is easy to reach by M.T.A. at Massachusetts Station, at the corner of Newbury street, Boston.

Activity Card Sponsored By Jr. High Group

The Meadowbrook Jr. High Council is well under way this year, and one of its first achievements was establishment of the Meadowbrook Activity Card. This enables students to attend extra-curricular activities, and if they were to pay admissions for individual events, it would cost three times as much.

Money obtained from sale of the cards will be used for a June dance, school beautification, a movie, gym equipment, a Mexican orphan and a Korean orphan.

President of the Council is Gordon Alpert; vice-president, Mel Prives; secretary, Carol Cohen, and the treasurer is Patti Dana.

Two new committees have been set up, hospitality and publicity. The hospitality committee replaces the previous guide system. Formerly individual pupils were chosen to introduce visitors to the school. Now members of the hospitality committee assume this responsibility.

Standing committees and their chairmen are: Activity—Rena Tannenbaum; Citizenship—Joan Cottle; Hospitality—Leslie Green; Ways and Means—Elaine Woo; Publicity—Bruce Isenberg.

Hyde School PTA Plans Library

Mrs. Stanley Ebb is chairman and her co-workers are Mrs. Herbert Thurston, Mrs. Martin Davis, Mrs. Julius Dorfman, Mrs. Bertram Stahl and Mrs. John Dunnigan.

Expresses Civic Pride

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

I think that we, residents of Newton, can point with great civic pride to the wonderful facilities available for ice skating. Mr. C. Evan Johnson, Director of Recreation in Newton, and his fine staff have done a magnificent job of maintaining the 16 or more skating areas at top skating condition for our maximum pleasure and maximum safety. The weather this year has been practically ideal for skating, but without the efforts of our Recreation Department my children and I might not have enjoyed this wholesome outdoor sport half as much.

Dr. Irving Kanovitz
15 Parker road,
Newton

Highlands, a past commander of the Newton Post 48, American Legion. A solemn high mass of requiem was offered in Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre.

VFW Pro Mat Card For Fibrosis Fund

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of Newton, the Sgt. Eugene Joseph Daly, Jr., Post, will sponsor a professional wrestling match for the benefit of Cystic Fibrosis Research Fund.

The matches will be staged next Saturday evening, Feb. 21, at the Newton High School gym.

The VFW invites the general public to the matches, part of the VFW program to collect funds to further medical research in the fight against this children's crippling.

Sgt. John J. McGuinness, post commander, announced that results of the Jan. 18 door-to-door Cystic Fibrosis Research Fund campaign were gratifying.

Volunteers on this fund drive included members of the Sgt. Daly Post and members of the Newton Branch for Cystic Fibrosis Research. The need for funds is now—tomorrow may never come for the child with cystic fibrosis.

Of the 7000 infants born with cystic fibrosis each year, less than 50 percent will live through their teens. With the help the veterans are extending, there is hope for these unfortunate youngsters and their families.

For tickets or information about the wrestling match, please contact Sgt. John J. McGuinness at DE 2-8893, or Mrs. Sumner Tye at DE 2-3899.

In addition to cooperating with the veterans on this athletic event, the Newton Branch for Cystic Fibrosis Research is sponsoring a Kiddle Party at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Saturday, March 14.

Included in the program are a full length fairy tale film feature, "The Amazing Dr. Conroy and Wanda", New England's most popular magician, prizes, funnybooks, and candy.

An invitation is extended to all youth groups in community settlement houses, community centers, scouts, etc., to attend this gala Kiddle Show. Let your child help a child with Cystic Fibrosis.

Working with chairman, Mrs. Richard Rossman, AV 2-1299, are Mrs. Lawrence Green, BI 4-2527, and Mrs. Irving Kelman, HO 9-9397.

The report was based on a supposed budget for four, did not allow for an automobile, and assumed that a fireman could find a $90 apartment in Newton.

Newton at the Crossroads

Newton Invests In Its Future

(Printed below is the sixth of several articles to be prepared by the Newton Taxpayers' Association on various aspects of Newton's economy with special reference to taxation and its relation to land and building use in the city.)

Two elements in Newton's expenses are important enough to be discussed separately in this series. They are schools and debt. Both activities represent long term investments in the future.

We will discuss debt and its companion, capital improvements, more fully next week—mentioning it here only as it relates to schools.

Here are some indicative groups of figures on the schools:

	1954	1958	% Increase
Number pupils	12,124	16,376	38.7%
Educational Staff	570	831	45.6%
Total Staff	730	1,047	43.4%

These figures reflect higher teacher-pupil ratios, more personnel needed over more school building locations as well as the addition of various courses and services.

Teachers salaries:

Women, A.B., Max.	$4000	$6350	58.7%
Median Teacher	3750	5796	54.8%

Cost of living (Mass.)

	101.7	126	23.9%
--	-------	-----	-------

These figures indicate that market pressures for qualified teachers more than the much noised cost of living are the prime factors in what is naturally the largest part of school operating costs.

Per Pupil Cost

% Tax Rate for Schools	$249	$374	50.2%
'53	37%	42%	13.5%

School Tax Per Capita

	$34	$71	108.8%
School Dept. Costs ($thous'ds)	2,928	6,463	120.7%

Dept. Sch'd Bldgs. ($millions)

	3.25	8.08	148.6%
--	------	------	--------

These figures show that Newton citizens want to be sure to have good schools.

There is no question but that the reputation of the city's public school system has helped attract new investment on to the city's land. While the actual resulting new investment cannot be measured accurately and some of it is by essentially transient "as long as my children go to school" people, the fact of the investment both in the schools and on the land is one of the city's assets.

Course at St. Philip's

EVER SUFFER A "TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT"?

You could—if you've never had the details of your insurance policy explained to you—for, in insurance, a "technical knockout" is the loss that can hit you when you thought coverage existed. An independent insurance agent makes it his business to explain to you the exact extent of your coverage. And when he plans your insurance he tries to eliminate any gaps in your protection—another dangerous source of technical knockouts. Make sure you avoid a TKO—buy your insurance through a trained, independent insurance agent.

"World Day Of Prayer" Will Be Observed Here On Friday

Princess Ileana of Romania and President Herbert Gezork of Andover-Newton Theological School will be the inspirational speakers at the World Day of Prayer services of the United Church Women of Newton tomorrow. Princess Ileana will speak at Grace Church, Newton Corner, at 2 p.m., and Dr. Gezork at Trinity Church Newton Centre, at 8 p.m.

At both services the theme will be "Lord, I Believe," with the messages drawn from world-wide experiences. Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian, president of the United Church Women of Newton, will preside at the afternoon service with Mrs. Kenneth Bernard as soloist and Mrs. Hamilton Gifford as organist.

At the evening service Mrs. James H. Burns, past president, will lead assisted by Mrs. Harrell F. Beck, a sister of one of the authors of this year's service.

Each year the World Day of Prayer service is composed by United Church Women from a different country. This seventy-third observance was composed by a committee of nine Egyptian women of the Coptic Orthodox, Anglican, Evangelical churches, and the YWCA.

Mrs. Riley J. Hampton, in charge of arrangements for the evening service, has announced that Norman Dow will be the soloist with Bruce Herrick at the organ.

An offering will be received at both services to be used for interdenominational mission work through the Divisions of Home and Foreign Missions of the National Council of Churches. This year special emphasis will be given to work with agricultural migrants; Indian-Americans; maintaining a chaplain at the government hospital at Anchorage, Alaska; assistance to four colleges in India, two in Japan, and one in Korea, in addition to projects for women in Asia and Africa.

As a member of the royal family in Romania, Princess Ileana was active in social work, YWCA, Girl Scouts, and became a Red Cross nurse during World War II. She lived six years under the Nazi regime but accepted voluntary exile from her beloved country when it fell under Communist domination. She came to the United States in 1950 with her six children and now lives in Newton Centre. Princess Ileana has given several hundred lectures and has been particularly active in her work for the Eastern Orthodox Church of which she is a member, as well as for the Episcopal Church.

She has published two books "I Live Again" and "Hospital of the Queen's Heart," and a pamphlet, "My Inner Faith." This year she helped write the Call to Prayer for the World Day of Prayer, a leaflet which is distributed to thousands of women in hospitals and nursing homes.

Dr. Herbert Gezork also comes from a European background, being born and educated in Germany. He was an exchange student in the United States prior to World War II and has traveled around the world studying social and religious conditions. He was general secretary of the German Baptist Youth Movement until it was dissolved under the Hitler government which he opposed.

Dr. Gezork came to this country to live in 1936 and became a citizen in 1943. From 1939 to 1950, he was Professor of Social Ethics at Wellesley College and Andover Theological School; since 1950 he has been president of the latter institution. Dr. Gezork is a member of the Department of International Relations of the National Council of Churches and three years ago was a

Missionary Nun Speaks Here Tonight

A Maryknoll Sister just returned from medical missionary work among the refugees in Formosa will speak to students at Newton College of the Sacred Heart tonight. Sister Antonia Maria, a doctor, has worked for nearly twenty years in China, Korea, and Formosa. In November, she returned to the Maryknoll mother house in Ossining, N. Y., from Formosa, where she had set up a home clinic in the Taichung Prefecture and twice a week brought modern medical treatment to outlying districts with a mobile clinic. She expects to return to Formosa in March.

When she went to China in 1939, Sister Antonia Maria established a dispensary in the Kwelin, Kwangsi, Mission. During World War II she helped care for American service men in a medical clinic in Chao Tung, Yunnan Province. After the war, she returned to Kwelin, but was forced to leave when Communists took over the government. Going then to Hong Kong refugee areas, she planned and supervised construction of a refugee village. Later she worked for six months in Pusan, Korea, to help treat refugees there. She was sent to Formosa in 1953.

Hearing Friday On B&A Move For Service Cut

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., will spearhead a fight before the State Public Utilities Commission tomorrow (Friday) in opposition to a petition by the Boston & Albany railroad to abandon its Newton Corner station and curtail other commuter train service to the city. Other public leaders and civic groups will join with the Mayor in urging that the B. & A. request be denied. Newton residents who can do so are being urged to attend tomorrow's hearing.

Stickers For Cars Near High

Restrictions on parking near Newton High School have been extended by the Board of Aldermen, which is studying a plan to install a sticker system for teachers and students.

The Board, by a vote of 19 to 2, established a regulation which provides for one-hour parking from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the west side of Gay St., from Trowbridge Ave., to Cabot St.

Chairman W. Hardy Prentice of the education committee, reported on a meeting with the School Committee on the parking problem. Voting against the new restriction were Aldermen Franklin N. Flaschner and Charles H. Morang.

Chairman Prentice said education officials were studying a proposed sticker plan which would allow parking near the High School. The system would be enforced by school officials, and only students who actually require use of an auto, would be issued a sticker.

The Board also approved a

Churchill Resigns; Principal At Hyde School Since 1938

Clarence E. Churchill, Principal of Hyde School since 1938, has announced his intention of retiring at the end of the school year.

He plans to manage real estate in Natick, and will continue to live in the Highlands, according to present plans.

He leaves this message to the parents of past and present students at Hyde School:

"Since coming here in 1938 it has been my privilege to work with some of the finest people in this country of ours. I don't think one could ever find a more cooperative, sincere, and loyal group of parents. This could be said also of their children for whom I have always had the highest respect. I have lived right in this community for these twenty-one years and have enjoyed every minute of it. We shall continue to

Successful Institute For Clergy Held Here

One of the largest audiences in the history of the event attended the eighth annual Institute for Clergy held at Temple Shalom last Friday.

Clergymen from Newton and surrounding communities, and members of the faculties of the theological schools in the area were present at the temple at the 10 a.m. session to hear Dr. Ellis Rivkin, the guest speaker.

Dr. Rivkin, renowned scholar, author and teacher, and currently professor of Jewish History at the Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, spoke on, "The Historical Background of the Ministry of Jesus."

Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom, Newton, was chairman of the Institute.

The invocation was given by Dr. Herbert Gezork, president of Andover-Newton Theological School; Sidney J. Simons, president of Temple Shalom of Newton, brought the greetings of the Temple; the Rev. John M. Balcomb, executive secretary of the Newton Council of Churches

Murphy Creates New Rift Within Democratic Ranks

Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy helped to widen the split and increase the confusion within the Democratic party by his anti-sales tax blast at the recent Jefferson-Jackson dinner. But he didn't accomplish much else.

What Murphy obviously was endeavoring to do was to project himself into the forefront as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor in 1960.

He presumably recognizes that the present prospects for the passage of Governor Furolo's sales tax measure are slim, indeed, and he undoubtedly would like to jockey himself into a position where he might be able to claim that he was at least partly responsible for the defeat of the proposal.

Murphy's strategy is fairly plain. It is not likely, however, that it will lift him into any commanding position in the gubernatorial race.

The Lieutenant Governor has neither the color nor the fire to become the rallying point for the sales tax opponents. He could not fill the same role that Senate President John E. Powers per-

Red Feather Services Here Get Less Than Requested

$262,600 United Fund Money Allocated To Local Agencies

Allocation for 1959 of $262,600 of United Fund money to the thirteen Newton Red Feather Agencies was voted during a meeting of the board of directors of the Newton Community Chest, Harry L. Whalen, Chest president, announced today. The amount runs considerably below the money needed to adequately conduct the agencies here.

This action was the climax to a long series of meetings and conferences which began last fall. During this time agency programs and services were closely examined and evaluated, and priorities were established not only by the board of each agency but by the Newton Budget Committee and United Community Services. Requests of the 13 Newton agencies totaled $344,219.

The Newton budget committee, under the leadership of Edward A. Green, chairman, studied each request and conferred with representatives of each agency. Because of the indicated lack of funds this committee determined that even though each request was sound and well deserving, a reduced total request for the 13 Newton Red Feather agencies would be made to United Community Services. Although added personnel were requested by some of the agencies, priority was given to retaining the present well-qualified staff.

"With less money available for distribution from the United Fund this year, the plight of most Red Feather agencies to maintain the existing standards in the face of continued demands for more

OK $2,500,000 Apt. For Chestnut Hill

The Newton Board of Aldermen paved the way for construction of a $2,500,000 apartment house development on 12,444 acres of land in Chestnut Hill.

The Board, by a vote of 12 to 2, Monday night approved a change in the zoning law to allow construction of the development at Boylston and Moody Sts.

Also, the Board granted the Newton College of the Sacred Heart permission to construct a dormitory for 154 students at 885 Centre St., Newton.

However, the Board unanimously rejected a plea for a zoning change to permit construction of a $150,000 car laundry at 197-211 Washington St., Newton, and for a change in zone which would allow construction of a modest medical building in Newton Highlands.

Approval for a zoning change to allow construction of the apartment building was on petition of Natalie Sostillo and others for a change from residence "C" to residence "E" of Lots 74, 75 and 76, Block 8, Section 65, at Boylston and Moody Sts.

Voting against the change were Aldermen Theodore D. Mann and John P. Nixon.

Chairman Leo M. Cannon of the claims and rules committee said the petitioners have signed a covenant containing the following restrictions:

No building will be within 60 feet of the homes on Moody St.

Big Jump In School Costs

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., submitted a budget of $19,374,598 to the Board of Aldermen on Monday night to finance the operation of the city government and the school department for the present year.

That represents an increase of $1,023,472 over the corresponding budget of $18,351,126 presented by the Mayor to the city fathers a year ago.

If all other factors in the city's financial picture were the same as last year that would foretell a rise of about $3.60 in Newton's tax rate.

However, Mayor Whitmore is hopeful of averting a tax increase of that amount through the new taxable property which will be producing revenue this year for the first time and other factors. Some rise in

May Ease Workload Of Clerk

A proposal to create a special election commission for Newton will be studied by a special aldermanic committee after adoption of the budget at the end of March.

A motion proposed by Alderman Leo M. Cannon was adopted Monday night by the Board of Aldermen, but an effort to have the committee appointed at once was voted down.

Alderman W. Hardy Prentice said members of the Finance Committee will be busy studying the budget and will not have enough time to make the election commission study. Prentice proposed the appointment of a committee be deferred until after the budget is considered. The board approved the latter's amendment.

Alderman Cannon proposed that five members of the Board

Welcome Mat Out At Dealers

Auto Showrooms To Mark Annual Event

A unique combination of stunning fashion, sleek power, new safety features and economy of operation will provide the theme of the gala and traditional Washington's Birth day "Open House" at local automobile dealers over the week-end and holiday.

With an eye to feminine customers, the 1959 automobiles combine eye-appeal in every line, contour, and inside appointments. Luxurious upholstery delights mllady and isn't too hard to take for the masculine buyer.

Every conceivable safety feature has been built into the new cars of all models and within every price range.

Larger brakes, greater visual capacity all-round, plus the power additives in steering and braking add considerable in the safety department.

A real gesture towards greater economy in operation has been included in the 1959 line of cars, some of them recommending the use of regular gas in the pleasure line.

Local dealers will have the royal welcome mat out at all salesrooms for the visitation of the usual army of interest-

Chief Purcell Heads Cancer Drive With E. T. Parkhurst

Newton Police Chief William Purcell, a frequent chairman of the annual Cancer Crusade, this year will serve as co-chairman with E. Tyler Parkhurst.

Chief Purcell was chairman of the April Cancer Crusade several years ago. He won national recognition from the American Cancer Society for the record-breaking crusade total achieved in Newton under his leadership, and was awarded a special citation by Melford R. Runyon, national executive vice-president of the Society.

The theme of this year's Crusade will be "Guard Your Family—Fight Cancer with a Checkup and a Check" to protect every individual and his family.

CHIEF WILLIAM PURCELL

Newton crusade volunteers look forward to a successful campaign effort in April, with Chief Purcell again assuming an active role with Mr. Parkhurst.

On the basis of statistical estimates, there will be roughly 400 cancer patients in Newton under medical care in 1959, with a development of approximately 220 new cases. Of the present population—82,000—some 20,000 eventually will develop the disease, according to the American Cancer Society statisticians.

Red Feather—

service is severe," Mr. Green stated. He continued that he feels the givers to the annual United Fund appeal this past fall do not realize the seriousness of the lack of support.

For example, he stated that because the majority of Red Feather and United Fund money goes toward salaries of workers who provide services, requests for nominal salary increases for the present workers alone totalled $20,050. With less money available this year, this item had to be eliminated. Badly needed new workers requested by four agencies had to be rejected. This means that no increase in services is possible even though the youth population is increasing, as is the need for more recreation and group work programs.

Mr. Green pointed out that the $282,600 allocated to Newton by UCS is $6,921 less than the amount allocated last year. This year's allocation had to be supplemented by $6,075 withdrawn by vote of the Chest Board from the limited Newton Community Chest reserve funds.

"Newton's Red Feather agencies are to be commended for their thorough and well done budget presentations," Mr. Green stated. His spirit of cooperation has been most encouraging to the Budget Committee he continued, and this has made the difficult job of the committee a pleasant one.

Mr. Walen emphasized the need for the Chest and its agencies to tell Newton's citizens that they need to give more money to the United Fund in order to insure adequate support for all services and particularly those services in Newton. Adequate services, he continued, cannot be provided unless they receive adequate support.

A vote of appreciation for the devoted and selfless work of the budget committee and its able chairman was unanimously passed by the Board.

Members of the Newton Budget Committee are as follows: Edward A. Green, 37 Ashmont road, Waban; Dr. Frank L. Springer, 188 Quinobeguin road, Waban; David Berkman, 412 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre; Chester E. Borden, 94 Day street, Auburndale; G. R. Breitkreutz, 86 Oxford road, Newton Centre; George M. Palen, 297 Islington road, Auburndale; and Wilbur W. Bullen, 199 Collins road, Waban.

Budget Is Up-

the rate is considered unavoidable, however.

Pay raises of $200 a year for the police and firemen and wage hikes ranging from $100 to $150 a year for other city employees are called for in the Mayor's budget. They would become effective April 1 if Mayor Whitmore's recommendations are approved by the Aldermen.

A jump in school costs, over which neither the Mayor nor the Aldermen have any control, is responsible for 70 per cent of the increase in the city's budget.

The budget for the operation of the municipal government, exclusive of the school department, has risen from a figure of $6,574,324 a year ago to $7,291,116, a jump of $716,792.

The amount recommended by the Mayor for the city government, apart from the school department, has increased from $11,776,802 last year to $12,083,482 which he is seeking for this year, a boost of $306,680.

The school budget has risen about 11 per cent over last year, while the city budget has gone up only 2.6 per cent.

It is possible that the Aldermen may trim down the city budget, as they did a year ago. They have no authority to cut the school budget.

Mayor Whitmore slashed $1,617,000 from the estimates and requests of his department heads before submitting his budget to the Aldermanic Board.

The pay raises the Mayor is seeking to put in effect April 1 are principally responsible for the increase in the municipal budget. General costs also have risen about 3 to 4 per cent over last year.

Members of the police and fire departments will get a flat $200-a-year wage hike if the Mayor's proposal is approved by the Aldermen.

Other municipal employees would get a raise April 1 equal to the increment he or she is receiving or received before reaching the maximum salary standard.

In other words, if an employee has been getting an annual step-rate increase or increment of $125, he will be boosted that amount on April 1.

Those employees who are due for an increment in the ordinary course of events will get it on the scheduled date, in addition to the April 1 increase.

Those who have achieved their maximum salary schedule will be given a raise April 1 equivalent to the annual increment they received before reaching their maximum.

Every employee will get an increase, with the amounts ranging from $100 to $200 per year.

Mayor Whitmore's budget was referred to the Aldermanic finance committee at Monday night's session.

The figures used above for purposes of comparison of the budgets of this year and last year are the recommendations which the Mayor makes to the Aldermen the middle of February of each year.

The city budget was reduced last year by the Aldermen and the likelihood is that it will be pared again this year.

Virtually every municipal department is seeking more money than it was actually allowed last year by the Aldermen.

An exception is the police department which was allowed $884,366 last year but for which the Mayor this year has recommended $964,960 this year.

The following figures show the amounts allowed last year and the amounts recommended this year for the various city departments:

Fire department: 1958—$1,319,832; 1959—$1,360,962.

Civil defense: 1958—$29,303; 1959—$32,326.

Weights and measures: 1958—$667,43; 1959—$15,026.58.

Total appropriations recommended by the Mayor for public safety are $2,373,275.89 as compared to $2,340,189.44 allowed last year.

City physician: 1958—$12,397.97; 1959—$12,698.91.

Health department: 1958—$165,969.18; 1959—$182,529.15.

Total appropriations proposed this year for the conservation of the public health are $193,226 as against $178,387 allowed last year.

The Mayor is recommending $1,004,595 for public welfare and veterans' services. That is a shade lower than the $1,007,779 appropriated last year.

For general governmental purposes the Mayor is recommending the appropriation of $3,902,824 this year as compared to $3,418,607 approved by the Aldermen last year.

Included in that category are:

Executive departments—$890,275 recommended this year, $474,009 allowed last year.

Accounting department: 1959—$50,343; 1958—$52,541.

U.S.Y. Record Hop

The Senior U. S. Y. of Temple Reylin, 1860 Washington street, Newton, will hold a record "hop" Saturday of next week at 8 p.m. Mel "Boy Idiot" Miller and other special guests will be featured.

Assessing department: 1959 $84,787; 1958—$75,450.

Purchasing department: 1959—$22,861; 1958—$20,324.

Treasurer's office: 1959—$2,195,120; 1958—$2,161,372.

Law department: 1959—$49,488; 1958—$46,144.

City clerk: 1959—$96,545; 1958—$85,324.

Public buildings: 1959—$513,402; 1958—$501,439.

The recommendation for the water department is not included in the budget figures since that is a self-supporting department.

Rawson Fingerprint Bill Aimed At Curbing Crime

Representative George E. Rawson of Newton has filed a bill with the Clerk of the House which provides for fingerprinting and photographing of virtually every one taken into custody.

The bill, known as House Bill No. 294, is a continuing effort by Public Safety Commissioner Otis M. Whitney and Rep. Rawson to secure better law enforcement by rounding up and convicting known criminals.

"In the past it has had the support of police and the former Crime Commission," Rawson said.

"The General Court has been reluctant to pass this bill previously but it is hoped that this year will make it a reality for the protection of the public from the degradation and activities of the criminal element is certainly a matter of the public interest."

Rawson's bill authorizes the State Police, Metropolitan District Police and city or town police to fingerprint and photograph any person in custody charged with the commission of a felony or a misdemeanor involving narcotics, or sex offenses, or gambling, or traffic in stolen property, or a fraudulent scheme, or whom they believe to be a fugitive from justice or a habitual criminal.

Persons in charge of all penal or correctional institutions are to be authorized to fingerprint and photograph all persons in custody or committed for any crime.

Under terms of the bill, copies of such fingerprints and photographs are to be forwarded daily to the Bureau of Identification of the State Police and to the Federal Bureau of Identification.

Political Highlights

formed two years ago because he lacks Powers' dynamic personality.

Murphy is a hard-working, plodding, dependable Democratic politician. But he is completely lacking in political glamor, and most Beacon Hill observers rate him pretty far down on their lists of possible gubernatorial prospects for 1960.

One weakness in Murphy's position is that it took him a long time to speak out and declare himself on the sales tax issue.

Governor Furcolo first advocated a sales tax back in January, 1957.

Some 25 months later, at a time when Murphy obviously was getting ready to make a run for the Governorship, he chose a Jefferson-Jackson dinner as the place at which to announce his opposition to a sales tax.

The most surprising thing about Murphy's pronouncement was that it was so long in coming. The circumstances today are about the same as they were two years ago except that the need for a sales tax probably has increased.

The Governor's sales tax bill is much the same as it was in 1957, perhaps a little less objectionable. The plank in the 1958 platform to which Murphy referred simply reaffirmed what the 1956 platform said.

The big difference is that Furcolo is now preparing to run for the Senate and Murphy for the Governorship.

Furcolo and Murphy never have been close personal or political friends. A coolness has existed between them even while they have served respectively as Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

Governor Furcolo didn't want Murphy as his running mate in the 1956 campaign. After Furcolo had won the gubernatorial endorsement at the 1956 Democratic State convention in Worcester, he tried hard to get several persons to agree to accept second place on the ticket.

Even while Murphy was seeking to line up votes for himself as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, Furcolo was endeavoring to persuade Governor's Councillor Patrick J. McDonough, Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., former State Auditor Thomas H. Buckley of Abington and one or two other to accept the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor.

McDonough, McCormack and Buckley all turned down the proposition made to them by Furcolo. McDonough preferred to remain in the Executive Council, McCormack to stand for election as Attorney General, and Buckley to bid for the gubernatorial endorsement.

Furcolo might still have come up with a candidate of his own choosing for Lieutenant Governor except that time ran out on him and the balloting for the second spot on the Democratic slate started before he could persuade anyone else to accept it.

Murphy, of course, was fully aware that Furcolo tried to hunt him aside, but he gave no outward indication of his hostility to the Governor until his speech at the recent Jefferson-Jackson dinner.

The Lieutenant Governor upon occasions has refused to vote to confirm certain of Furcolo's appointees. In each instance, however, it seemed clear that his objection was directed against the appointee, not against Governor Furcolo.

Murphy's opposition to the sales tax is not likely to have any decisive influence on the fight over that issue.

As matters stand at the present time, the sales tax bill is destined for defeat unless Governor Furcolo can do a better selling job than he has done up to the present time and reverse the trend of his declining influence within his own party.

When Furcolo intimated that he might stand for a third term as Governor, it obviously was an attempt to prod some balky Democrats into line. The theory behind that strategy was to convey to the legislators the impression that Furcolo might be running things on Beacon Hill for longer than the next 22 months.

That statement made about as much impact as dropping a handkerchief on a marble floor.

Legislators in both parties on Beacon Hill know that Furcolo has his sights set on a seat in the U. S. Senate and that he hasn't the slightest intention of running again for Governor.

The fact that Furcolo asserted that he might run again for Governor indicated that he realizes he must strengthen his influence with the Legislature. There is no question that he is right on that point.

Legislature Will Block Constitutional Conclave

One recommendation by Governor Furcolo which seems destined for certain rejection by the Legislature is his proposal that a constitutional convention be called.

For one thing the legislators are very reluctant to turn over any of their powers to the delegates to a constitutional convention. They also can get the shivers and shakes just thinking of what might happen at such a conclave.

If a constitutional convention were staged, it's quite possible that there would be a move to abolish one of the two branches of the Legislature.

A convention, for example, might decide to wipe out the House of Representatives or the State Senate and to establish a Legislature with only a single branch.

Or it could decree that a House of 240 members is too big and unwieldy and that the Commonwealth would be better off with a much smaller body.

To be sure, any action taken by a constitutional convention would have to be ratified by the voters, but it's entirely possible that the public might approve the idea of reducing the size of the Legislature.

It has been so long since a constitutional convention has been held in Massachusetts that most persons don't understand much about it or fully realize what could occur at such an assembly.

A Governor or Legislature can express a wish that a constitutional convention act upon certain proposals or confine itself to specified matters.

But the delegates, once they are elected by the voters and are assembled, are free to take up anything they wish, and a Governor has no control whatever over them other than that which he might exercise by persuasion or patronage.

There would be a very good chance, for instance, that a constitutional convention would go on record in favor of the election of judges instead of

Newton at the Crossroads City Follows Sound Debt Policy

(Printed below is the seventh of several articles to be prepared by the Newton Taxpayers' Association on various aspects of Newton's economy with special reference to taxation and its relation to land and building use in the city.)

Newton's debt at present is entirely for capital improvements. The city has not borrowed for current expenses since the relief loan of depression days was retired. Nor does the city borrow for maintenance items. From time to time it is suggested that the city borrow for heavy equipment like trucks or road machinery, but so far Newton has not done so.

Therefore Newton, compared with many cities, may be said to have followed conservative and sound policies with respect to the purposes for which it has incurred debt. The city's debt structure looks like this:

	1950	1958
Sewers .....	2,174	4,291
Streets .....	2,325	2,610
Schools .....	3,256	8,078
Other buildings ..	541	1,014
Veterans' Housing ..	1,230	600
Water .....	174	737

Total .....

9,700 17,360
The water debt went up largely due to changes resulting from going on to M.D.C. water. It is retired by the water bills, not the tax bills. The school debt does not yet include the South Side High School and other contemplated school additions. Newton has never really gone in for pay-as-you-go. For example, with respect to the street program, the city borrows each year about the same amount of debt which it retires. This "in one side and out the other" way of financing an activity which is being kept at a relatively stable financial level costs the city about $50,000 a year in interest.

So it is being urged that the city begin to retire its street program debt faster than it is incurred each year in order to gradually put this recurrent activity on a pay-as-you-go basis and to introduce a greater cushion of flexibility into the tax rates during comparatively good times. At the start of such a program the funds would come from higher current taxes, but gradually the reduction in principal payments would allow for more rapid progress toward eliminating the recurrent interest payments.

With respect to major buildings there is no substantial opinion now urging the city toward a pay-as-you-go program.

From the viewpoint of investment in Newton land, the city has invested substantially in its own capacity to provide proper capital improvements for present and future residents.

This concludes our current discussion of the expense blade of the tax shears, and we turn now to consideration of the other blade—property values.

From the property value point of view the question asked about city debt is whether it is disproportionate to the property value upon which it is laid. While generally a debt-valuation relationship of 6 percent is considered reasonable, in heavy growth periods it tends to go higher.

Newton's debt-valuation relationship has gone like this—1950, 4.8 percent; 1958, 6.5 percent—not much out of line and rather reasonable for a still growing community even though much of the city is old. On the other hand, the greater the debt, the more rigid the basic tax structure.

It is expected that Newton's debt will run up to around $21 million by 1960. It is hoped that from then on the debt can

Divine Influence Dispels Discord, Nysewander Says

A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Clifford R. Nysewander, said here Thursday that recognition of God's ever-present and ever-available influence for good dispels fear and discord.

The Indianapolis, Ind., lecturer spoke at the First Church of Christ Scientist at 391 Walnut St., Newtonville and declared the answer to conflicting world opinions, selfishness and suffering is spiritual regeneration.

During the course of his lecture entitled "Christian Science: The Influence of Immanuel, God with Us" Nysewander described healings through wholly spiritual means of broken bones, influenza, and a leg injury that was expected to require amputation.

The example of Jesus, he said, left indelible proof of the power of the Christ to bring healing, harmony, and regeneration into daily experience.

A new group has joined with the hundreds of Newton residents who are taking part in the "Decisions 1959" program sponsored by the World Affairs Council. The latest group to organize has been brought together by Dr. Ben Selling of 87 Withington Rd., Newtonville.

Discussions of current world problems are being carried on in weekly meetings through February and March, in conjunction with related radio and television programs. WBZ-TV offers a model discussion on February 22 at 9:30 a.m., and WHDH-TV a Youth Forum on February 20 at six o'clock. Press conferences are being broadcast over WHDH radio on Mondays at 10 p.m.

Most of the Newton groups are meeting on Thursday evenings, when Channel 2 provides television programs coordinated with the weekly topics. The subject for discussion on February 19 is: "Are We Realistic About Communist Powers?"

This will be argued on Channel 2, from 8 to 9 p.m. by a panel composed of: Professor Milton Katz of Harvard, Moderator; Niles Bond, Research Fellow at the Harvard Center for International Affairs, on leave from the U.S. Foreign Service; Professor Zbigniew Brzezinski, Russian Research Center at Harvard; Jose de Varon, member of the board of World Affairs Council; and Miss Daphne Whitlam, Nie-

Center for International Studies; and Professor Richard D. Robinson, Harvard Business School and Middle East Research Center.

Life Membership Plaques Given By Fibrosis Group

One of the highlights of the recent meeting of the Newton Branch of the Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation was the presentation of life membership plaques to Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Gray, Mrs. Dorothy Gordon, and Paymaster Corporation.

These, the first life members of the year-old Newton Branch for CF Research, were thanked for their encouraging enthusiasm by Mrs. Saul Cutler, membership secretary, in the absence of Mrs. Myron Atlas, membership chairman. Prizes, candy, and comic books will also be distributed to the youngsters. Tickets are available from co-chairmen Mrs. Lawrence Green and Mrs. Irving Kelman.

Funds raised at this Kiddie Party will go to further medical research in fight against Cystic Fibrosis, an incurable disease which hampers the respiratory and digestive systems of more than 7000 newborn children every year.

Mrs. Joseph Schiff and Mrs. Sumner Tye are co-chairmen of the spring affair to be held at the Hotel Somerset on June 13. Chairmen of the various committees will be announced soon.

Due to unforeseen circumstances the wrestling match planned for February 21, and sponsored by the Sgt. Eugene Joseph Daley Post V.F.W. for the benefit of the Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, will not be held.

Frost Motors Has Fine New And Used Cars

Salesmanager W. H. Larsen of Frost Motors, 399-624 Washington St., Newton, predicts for 1959 a greater trend toward Studebaker buying than ever before experienced. This increased sales interest, he says, is due to the vast selection of fine cars now being offered.

Whether people are interested in purchasing a new car or one of his finer reconditioned used models, he assured them of the most attractive offer that can be found anywhere, based on a desire to keep old customers and invite new buyers who are seeking good cars at prices that are maintained through economy and conservation in management.

Mr. Larsen says that the co-operative spirit prevalent throughout the organization has always been a big drawing point for giving complete satisfaction to all their customers, both in sales and service departments.

Annual Luncheon Raises Funds For Scholarships

A Parisian theme will be featured at the gala annual luncheon to be conducted by the Women's Scholarship Association at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel on April 15.

Coeditors, Mrs. Karl Joslow, of Newton, and Mrs. Philip Troen, of Needham, are busily engaged in plans for an attractive Luncheon Book to be given to guests at the event. Mrs. Troen is serving as co-editor of the book for the second consecutive year.

The Women's Scholarship Association, now in its 52nd year, is dedicated to furthering the higher education of worthy young women by granting them scholarships and loans for study. The scholarships assist the young women in getting degrees at accredited schools and colleges.

The April luncheon is one of a number of events held annually to provide funds to carry on the work of the association.

Scholarships are awarded as outright grants with no obligation of repayment; loans are also given without interest charges to upperclassmen and graduate students.

PTA Raps Poor Heat At Stearns

Members of Stearns School PTA Executive Board met recently in special session to plan future meetings and consider action on three problems—two relating to the safety of children.

A petition requesting that a policeman be stationed at the corners of Farnon and Jasset streets, is being drawn up for concerned parents to sign. The placement of a sign on Watertown street, to designate the Stearns School driveway was under advisement.

Much discussion about the inadequate heating in the Stearns School took place. Herbert J. Callahan, principal, assured the group the matter was being considered by the School and Building departments.

One-Armed DeNucci Breaks Jenkins Jaw

Scrappy Joe DeNucci, the 18-year-old graduate of Newton High, is the talk of the Hub boxing fraternity after his stunning comeback victory at the Arena Monday night.

The Newton middleweight, handicapped as thoroughly as if he had one arm tied behind, nearly decapitated ring veteran Ike Jenkins of New York.

DeNucci slugged Jenkins on the jaw with a right in the second round of their scheduled nine rounder, with such force that he fractured his jawbone.

So, DeNucci was awarded a third round kayo in what was the feature presentation of a card by the Goodwin A.C. It was the Newton boy's first scrap since Nov. 17 when Chico Vejar of Stamford, Conn., opened a cut over DeNucci's left eye, and the referee stopped the fight in the sixth.

There almost might not have been any fight between DeNucci and Jenkins Monday night if Joe had told of a mishap in the gym last Thursday during training.

It came to light when Dr. Francis Wixted examined the fighter after the bout and discovered a shoulder separation. He insisted, however, the injury only pained him when he hooked.

"I figured I could do okay with a jab and my right hand," Joe explained later. "But then the shoulder got twisted in a clinch in the first round, and I couldn't even jab."

Newton Legislators Discuss State Problems

Tax Outlook Termed "Frightening"

The mounting taxation problem in Massachusetts was termed "frightening" by Senator Donald Gibbs, of Newton, at the meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters last Friday. Local members of the General Court appeared as speakers at the meeting and discussed many aspects of state government. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Isidor Slotnik, president.

Senator Gibbs pointed out that a budget for 1964, based on the laws in effect last January would require $562-million, as compared with $408-million this year.

Representative Arthur Heaney, who has filed a tax measure, expressed great concern for the budgets of this year and next. He explained that his bill would probably raise about $45,000,000 annually and would require no one to pay more than an additional $30 yearly.

A State Representative for 16 years, George Rawson, in commenting on the Mass. election laws, said that they are considered the best in the country. This he said was due to the efforts of a former Secretary of State, Fred Cook.

In the present session, he said there have been no bills filed to build up the election laws, except his bill to abolish the presidential primary.

In commenting on redistricting, John Whittemore who is serving his second term as a State Representative called it, "a matter between the parties," and said that if we want to keep the two-party system, redistricting must provide for political balance between the parties.

Since county lines cannot be crossed in setting up representative districts, Mr. Whittemore said that Mrs. Thresher and Mr. Heaney would be "all right," but pointed out that Mr. Rawson and Senator Gibbs would be "counted out."

Representative Irene Thresher said that since more jobs in the probation service are coming under civil service, there is an effort being made to undermine the qualifications for probation officers.

Ex-legislators, she said, who may have given up business connections during their state service, like to find a "slot" for themselves. She also stated that many desirable things in the field of public welfare are often cut out by the ways and means committee because they cost money.

All of the local legislators agreed that they are being handicapped in their duties by the lack of the legislative bulletin which has not yet been printed.

This is an unusual situation, and its cost of about $70,000 was termed a "drop in the bucket" when compared to the large sums allocated to new jobs and projects.

Mrs. Mork, legislative chairman of the Newton League of Women Voters, introduced the speakers.

ed people intent on examining the glittering new models.

Many dealers have planned unique features in conjunction with the Washington's Birthday event. It will be a gala time over the week-end and throughout the coming week, with every facility arranged for the enjoyment of patrons.

Washington's Birthday is traditionally the "Big Show" of the year and local dealers will extend themselves to make it a success.

GRADUATION BANQUET — Sherwood Quinlan, Miss Marlene Berman, chairman, and Herbert Hinds, members of the "Arrangements Committee" of the Chamber of Commerce Dale Carnegie Course, discuss last minute details prior to their graduation banquet held recently at the Commonwealth Country Club.

Dr. Phillips Explains Import Of City School Health Services

The director of the Newton Health Department, Dr. Harry T. Phillips, discussed school health services at a recent executive board meeting of the Newton PTA Council.

School health service is not under the jurisdiction of the school committee, Dr. Phillips explained, and since children compose one-fifth of Newton's population, school health service is a large part of the community health service.

Elements of the Newton health service may be divided into promotive or educational, preventive, curative, and rehabilitative functions. Dr. Phillips told representatives of PTA's. He listed as personal services the eye, ear, and teeth examinations given in the public schools. He pointed out that there is a dental clinic at Newton City Hall for needy elementary school students. Health instruction, he said, is carried out in collaboration with the teaching staff.

Another phase of health service, Dr. Phillips said, is control of environment which includes inspection of all public eating places and school cafeterias, and inspection of school plumbing and sanitation. His staff includes eight part-time physicians who also serve the parochial schools.

Twelve public health nurses cover schools and related sectors of the city. The Health Department also includes three part-time dentists, two dental hygienists and a technician.

Mrs. Robert Toher reported on her experiences as a parent-speaker on a panel sponsored by the Massachusetts Public Health Association. She pointed out the responsibility of the parent to keep home questionably ill children.

Representing the school administration, Dr. J. Bernard Everett, head of the Division of Instruction, pointed out the excellent liaison between the school department and other city departments in regard to the health and safety of children.

Local Students Make Honor Roll

Scott, Jr., Auburndale.

New Director Of Girls Camp

Mrs. Barbara Learoyd, of 55 Chaske Avenue, Auburndale, has been named the new director of Camp Winnemont for Girls at West Ossipee, N.H., according to an announcement from the owner, Mrs. W. H. Bentley, of Winchester, Mass.

Mrs. Learoyd is a native of Salem, Mass., and is a graduate of Boston University. She has done graduate work at the university and has taught in several high schools on the North Shore.

She also was registrar at Endicott Junior College in Beverly, and for the past eight years has been executive secretary of the New England Camping Association, a section of the American Camping Association.

The new director is making plans to meet Winnemont campers and parents, staff members and friends in the near future.

BUICK LESABRE!

Some of its best "extras" don't cost an extra cent!

Compare the manufacturers' suggested retail prices posted right on the cars, and you'll find you can own a Buick LeSabre for only about $200 more than the best models of "the leading low-priced three".

What your $200 gets you

First, of course, you get the difference of owning a Buick... you get an important car with an important name. Buick's size and roominess. Wonderful quietness. And great style!... The new Buick has been named by Motor Trend magazine as "the best looking car of the year, overall!" Just these advantages would be well worth the money.

You get Buick's "extras" in quality

"Best-performing Buick ever!"... "Best-operating car I've driven in 30 years!"... "Much the best Buick yet!"... That's how owners describe this '59 Buick. And no wonder! Here you get the new Equipoise ride, finest ride in all Buick history. You get Buick's exclusive fin-cooled brakes, with front drums of fast-cooling aluminum. Great extra benefits... with no extra price put on them.

You get new economy, too

The '59 Buick cars were engineered to deliver improved gas mileage. Reports now in from owners show 15 to 18 miles per gallon not at all unusual. And in a recent set of thorough tests of LeSabre against another car of comparable size and also known for good economy, LeSabre gave the better mileage every time.

And in new Twin-Turbine or Triple-Turbine transmissions, you get the smoothest type of automatic drive yet developed. See and drive this truly exceptional car. You'll be very glad you did!

Quota Club To Dine In Hub Club

Assisting Mrs. Marjorie Arnold, President, are Miss Mary Gibbons of Washington street, West Newton, and Miss Elizabeth Nickerson, of Lowell avenue, Newtonville.

Over 20 Years Police Polls List 65,400 In This City

The Newton Police poll of residents over the age of 20 showed a total of 65,400 cards filled out, but additional names are expected in the mails.

This compares to 65,510 in 1958.

The police poll lists made two calls at 918 homes where the occupants could not be reached the first time. Some 60 per cent were contacted on the second call.

Pink slips were left at the remaining dwellings, and occupants are asked to fill them out and return them to City Clerk Monte G. Basbas as soon as possible.

This year the task took 42 days compared to 46 last year. A census of pre-school age children, taken for the school department, showed 7976 child-

The Heart Sunday drive in Newton thus far has netted approximately $11,000, it was announced by Treasurer John Balkus.

He said final figures are not in yet because quite a few kits are still out—kits which many of the volunteer army of Newton women, augmented this year by 50 teen-agers, have not turned in.

Officials blamed the Washington's Birthday Holiday in the delay, and said kits still out may be turned in at the Newton National Bank.

Meanwhile, A. M. Sonnabend, Boston financier and state Heart Fund chairman, made a final appeal to Bay State residents to wind up

Deep Political Implications Behind Furcolo-Murphy Feud

The widening feud between Governor Furcolo and Lieutenant Governor Murphy has deep-rooted political implications, in the opinion of veteran Beacon Hill observers.

Political plans of the two Democratic leaders are in direct conflict.

Murphy is aiming for the Democratic nomination for Governor in 1960.

Furcolo, who intends to stand for election to the U. S. Senate in 1960, does not want Murphy as his gubernatorial running mate.

While Murphy and Furcolo both have maintained a tight-lipped silence on this situation, persons close to the Governor and Lieutenant Governor admit privately that those facts are correct.

Furcolo and Murphy ran together as the Democratic candidates for U. S. Senator and Governor respectively in 1954. Neither of the two men ever has said anything publicly which reflected politically on the other. It would be stretching the truth, however, to report that any firm friendship grew out of that '54 campaign.

Supporters of Furcolo and Murphy from time to time have privately made claims and counter claims as to which of the two failed to pull his own weight in the Democratic boat.

From the standpoint of cold statistics there wasn't a great

Mayor In Third Try To Get 4 Voting Machines Installed

Mayor Whitmore Hints Tax Picture Not Dark

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., will make no prediction as to what Newton's tax rate will be this year, but he hinted pretty broadly this week that he doesn't think it will provide too much bad news for the city's property-owners.

The Mayor, himself a former baseball star at Harvard, said that forecasting the tax rate at this stage is tantamount to trying to anticipate at the end of the first inning what the score of a baseball game will be.

It is far better policy, the Mayor added, to wait until the full game has been played.

He then gave what may have been an indication of his own hopes and views by adding that the game "is being played under quite favorable conditions, and a tight contest is in prospect."

What that seems to mean is that Mayor Whitmore believes that if the tax rate goes up it will not go up much.

One other city official offered the observation today that if the school budget has increased only the same percentage as the municipal budget the people of Newton could expect a tax rate reduction.

Aldermen Knocked Out Two Attempts

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., is endeavoring to initiate the use of voting machines in Newton.

The Mayor has included $720 in his budget for the rental of four voting machines for use in one of the city's polling places as an experiment in next fall's election.

It is the third successive year Mayor Whitmore has made such a proposal to the Board of Aldermen.

In each of the past two years the Aldermen have knocked out of the budget the item for renting voting machines and have insisted on the continued use of the old-fashioned paper ballot.

Complaints about the delays in computing Newton's election returns as a result of the long, tedious work involved in counting the paper ballots, have resulted in the third recommendation by the Mayor that the voting machines be given a trial.

If the experiment proved a success, additional machines would be obtained for use in next year's Presidential election when the vote is certain to be extremely heavy.

The $720 paid by the city for renting the voting machines would be applied against their purchase price if the city decided to buy them after trying them in one precinct next fall.

The polling place where the voting machines would be given a trial run has not yet been selected, but it would have to be a precinct with not more than 1600 registered voters since the law provides that if voting machines are used there must be at least one machine for each 400 voters.

Mayor Whitmore, in recommending the step toward the mechanization of the city's voting, said he does not regard voting machines as a sure-fire cure-all for the mistakes which occur in elections.

He pointed out that the possibility of human error still exists in copying the totals for each candidate from the voting machines and then adding them.

But he asserted that the likelihood of error is smaller than when election counters work wearily hour after hour through the night and early Representative George E. Rawson of Newton, who was dropped from the House committee on election laws, has been restored to that committee by Speaker John F. Thompson.

The removal from the committee of Rawson, regarded as one of the State's leading authorities on the election laws, aroused a storm of protests.

March Issue Out Next Week

Gay Breath of Spring With "Suburbia Today"

A breath of Spring, and pages of more good reading arrive next week with the gay, colorful March issue of "Suburbia Today" in this newspaper.

More than a dozen sprightly articles, many of them cleverly illustrated, are featured.

In March we have the first indications of the spring and summer to come. "Suburbia Today" offers our readers, therefore, an article on how to begin planning for and planting a garden perhaps a bit differently and a bit more interestingly this season, in "Seed Packet Landscaping Will Give Quick Results."

The bright cover for March, from the talented brush of June Goldsborough, even hints of the happy days ahead. A small boy stands on his front lawn on a windy March day, looking up at the still-bare trees — and suddenly spies the first robin.

A challenging article on weather and how it affects us is included in the March issue as well as a thought-provoking feature on the great American migration to the suburbs; this one written from a French source.

The food pages will again delight the homemaker with a variety of hints to help solve some of the Lenten problems.

Credit buying by Americans today is covered in an article titled, "Borrowing Can Make Sense." When, how, and how much to borrow is advised by

Kiddie Party By Fibrosis Group Mar. 14

Plans for the March 14th Kiddie Party to be held at the Coolidge Corner Theatre have been put into full swing by the enthusiastic members of the Newton Branch for Cystic Fibrosis Research.

Featured attraction of the afternoon will be a full-length fairy tale film from an Academy-Award winning studio. A magic act, prizes, candy, and comic books will provide the youngsters with a full afternoon's entertainment. Tickets are being sold by CF members now, and will also be available at the theatre on the afternoon of the performance.

Funds raised from the Kiddie Party go to further medical research in the fight against Cystic Fibrosis, relentless killer of young children. Medical help is needed now for thousands of youngsters destined not to live through teens because of Cystic Fibrosis.

On Tuesday evening, February 17, the Ad Book Committee met at the home of Mrs. Sumner Tye to discuss plans for the Regency Ball to be sponsored by the Newton Branch for Cystic Fibrosis Research at the Hotel Somerset on June 13.

500 Camp Fire Girls To Present Show March 21st

morning making their count from paper ballots and that the machines would speed up the tabulation of the city's returns.

The Mayor said that if voting machines are installed in Newton the expenditure for election officers hired to count the paper ballots could gradually be reduced, helping to offset the cost of the machines.

"All I am recommending now," he emphasized, "is an experiment with four machines in one precinct at a cost this year of $720 or $180 per machine."

While Newton's election returns are noted for their accuracy and reliability, the city also is notoriously late in reporting its figures because of the tremendous task involved in counting the ballots.

Numerous other cities and towns throughout Massachusetts have tried the voting machines and have found them vastly superior to the old-fashioned paper ballots.

When an error occurs in the returns from a polling place where machines are used, it is quickly detected. Usually it is because the two candidates are transposed, or because an election officer makes a mistake in adding up the figures taken down from the different voting machines.

Others actively engaged in the Ad Book are Mrs. David Drapkin, Miss Maxine Greenblatt, and Mrs. Irving Kadet.

Every local Camp Fire Girl, from the little Blue Birds to those of high school age, are busily engaged in working on this production, helping to create the scenes, costumes and scenery.

Directed by Mrs. Benjamin Loeb, the lyrics and narration were written by Mrs. Peter Coogan, Mrs. Benjamin Loeb, and Mrs. David Fleischman. Scene directors are: Mrs. Melvin Darack, Mrs. Saul Danburg, Mrs. Harold Edinburg, Mrs. Melvin Gould, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. H. Allison Thompson, Mrs. Orazio Vacarro.

In the music department: Mrs. Arthur Korb, Mrs. Nash, Mrs. Leonard Martin, Mrs. David Stowe. Mrs. Norman Crew is designing some of the costumes.

The creative group of Mrs. Raymond Smith from Weeks Junior High School is assisting the Blue Birds in designing and making their own costumes and will be the dressers for them the night of the performance. These girls: Deirdre Smith, Louise Case, Caroline D'Eugenio, Marcia Hurst, Rona Flaschner, Suzanne Sanderson, Pat Finnegan, Lyn Levy, Donna Crew.

Tickets may be purchased from the girls or at the door. Special Chairman of the production is Mrs. Peter Coogan, organizer of the Camp Fire Girls in Newton.

Claflin PTA Meets Monday

Benevolence Week Starts Next Sunday

March 1 through March 8 will be observed at the Second Church in Newton as its Benevolence Week. Next Friday evening, March 6, there will be a homebaked ham supper at the church for the entire parish. Mrs. Arthur Barnes and Mrs. Howard Hathaway are chairmen in charge of this supper, and the young people of the high school groups will serve as

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By JUDY ARNOLD

HIGHLIGHTS — Recently an assembly was held during X-Block for all junior and sophomore girls. These students had an opportunity to watch a modern dance program designed to promote interest in that field. Approximately six dances were presented and introduced by Betsy Cohen, a senior, and Miss Flynn, of the physical education department.

A Committee on Guidance, functioning through the PTSA has been concerned with studying the guidance program in the Newton schools. Newton High is the last school to be examined. All information is to be presented in a booklet; no interpretation will be done. The evaluation is left to the individual reader. Several sections in the country have praised this operation and are making similar investigations in their communities. Parents have put a great deal of effort into this work and several teachers and guidance workers have been very cooperative.

Ed Bayard, Carol Isenberg, Barbara Adolph, Ann Holmes, Jim Siegel, Sue Williams, Gordon Nelson, Judy Arnold, Karin Franseen, George Parker, and Phil Sandler were commended for their superior performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test taken last spring. They were among the 10,000 who received similar letters of commendation.

THE OUT-DOOR TYPE — Andrea Wragg was the Newtonite's latest sports standout. The rifle team, under the direction of Mr. Willard, is made up of Karin Franseen, Bob Shriberg, Ken McDaniels, Phil Phillips, Pete Hunt, Fran Hunt, Howie Mann, Pete Higgins, Paul Monroe, and Pete Hollis. The team shoots at the West Newton Armory three times a week. Points are given on the basis of participation and placement of the candidate in matches and for the overall average achieved in match play. Twenty and a half points are necessary to obtain a letter. Top scores have been achieved by Karin Franseen, Phil Phillips, and Pete Hunt.

COLLEGE-WISE — Ellen Kolikof is making plans to continue her education at the University of Massachusetts. John Derr, will attend Amherst College, and Frances White, Framingham State Teachers' College.

A representative from Merrimack College, a co-ed college conducted by a Catholic order, visited Newton High last Thursday and spoke with all seniors and juniors interested in attending the school. Lafayette and Stevens College in Missouri also sent a representative to Newton High.

A meeting to give a clear picture of the situation on college admissions was held recently. Principal Howe attended this three-day conference along with College Entrance Examination Board members and representatives from various national and local magazines and newspapers.

On a special bulletin board in Building 3 are posted all notices concerning scholarships extended to students throughout the country. The purpose of these grants is to give students who could not otherwise afford to, the opportunity to continue their education.

Last month Miss South, senior class advisor, and Mr. Howe sponsored a scholarship tea. To this function were invited everyone interested in awarding aid to high school seniors. Various information about the need for scholarships, individual pupils who have applied for aid, and the progress of former Newton High pupils will be presented to these people.

In addition, the P.T.S.A. is working diligently to set up a scholarship fund to which people may will sums of money. One thousand dollars was left by last year's senior class for the purpose of establishing such a fund. The plans, which are not yet definite, were presented by Principal Howe at the last P.T.S.A. meeting. The deposit will be kept in a Newton bank and will be handled separately from scholarships given by local and national groups.

The students of Newton High, very worried about the serious college problems as they are, have not realized the many openings in western schools.

Newton High, in extending every effort to help college-bound seniors is offering a special service. The guidance office will tell students exactly who is applying to what college. This helps individual pupils to know the type of person he is competing with for admission and just how good his chances are. In addition Building 3.

JOTS AND DASHES — Kenny Kovack and Brooke Kruger were the last Senior Standouts.

Judy Bedrick, the Newtonite's assignment editor, won $10 in a contest sponsored by the Boston Globe. One student from each newspaper staff that attended the Rogers and Hammerstein press conference in December was permitted to write a story for competition. The selection of each school's representative was up to the school's staff. Three cash prizes were awarded for the 1200 word stories.

AFTER-CLASS — Final sales were held for junior class rings last week. A deposit of $5 was necessary as a down payment on each ring. The members of the junior home-rooms recently voted on the type of ring they desire. Margie Casselman was selected Queen of the Junior

Dorchester High Class '34 Maps 25th Reunion

Newton residents who graduated with the class of '34 at Dorchester High School are advised of plans for a 25 year reunion May 26 at Hotel Vendome, Boston.

Information may be obtained by a letter or phone call to: Mrs. Barbara Bacigalupo Hunter, of 24 Garden street, Newton, DE 2-1278, or Mrs. Rena Field Bernson, of 70 Longfellow road, Newton, LA 7-6112.

Tax Picture-

The Mayor stressed that it is particularly unwise to try to estimate the tax rate merely on the basis of the city and school budgets.

"The submission by the Mayor of his recommended budget is only the first in a series of considerations which lead to the final establishment of the rate," he said.

"In addition to the Board of Aldermen's consideration of the Mayor's recommendations and during its deliberations, additional or revised requests may be necessary.

"Further, following the passage of the budget by the Board of Aldermen, all aspects of the city's financial condition must be weighed at tax rate setting time.

"The state's tax program, particularly as it relates to charges and disbursements to the cities and towns is a most important factor to be considered," the Mayor continued.

"At the present time, the state program for the year is certainly not determined and can more properly be described as up in the air.

"So, instead of attempting to give the final score at the end of the first inning, it is far better policy to wait until the ball game has been played.

"At this time it is sufficient to say that the game is being played under quite favorable circumstances, and a tight contest is in prospect," Mayor Whitmore concluded.

Political Highlights

deal to choose between the two men, although Furcolo made slightly the stronger showing. Senator Saltonstall topped Furcolo by 28,706 votes, polling 956,606 votes to 927,399 for Furcolo. Former Governor Herter defeated Murphy by 75,252 votes. Herter's total was 985,339 and Murphy's 910,087.

Furcolo came back from that '54 defeat to gain the Democratic nomination for Governor in 1956 and subsequently win election.

Murphy, also attempting a comeback, captured the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor in '56 after a struggle and after a behind-the-scenes endeavor by Furcolo to sidetrack him, and then, like Furcolo, rode in with the Democratic tide.

The Furcolo adherents, who are in a position to know what they are talking about, declare that the Governor believes he might have defeated Saltonstall in 1954 if he had a stronger running mate than Murphy.

That was why, they say, Furcolo shopped around at the 1956 Democratic convention to find someone other than Murphy as the candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

Furcolo, they add, didn't want Murphy as the nominee for Lieutenant Governor in 1956 and doesn't want him as the gubernatorial standard-bearer in 1960.

Murphy's admirers intimate that Furcolo is taking quite a lot for granted and that it is not beyond the realm of political possibility that someone other than the present Governor might wind up as the Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator in 1960.

That was where the situation stood when Murphy exploded a bombshell at the Jefferson-Jackson dinner by leveling an attack upon the Governor's sales tax bill.

Actually, Murphy has bristled under some of the things which have happened on Beacon Hill during the past two years and more than once relations between Furcolo and Murphy were strained almost to the breaking point.

The first public split between Murphy and Furcolo came early in 1957 when Murphy vigorously opposed the Governor's appointment of John E. Maloney of Brookline to the chairmanship of the State Housing Board.

Murphy urged so forceful a fight that Maloney's appointment probably would have been blocked in the Executive Council except that the three Republicans serving in the body at the time rallied behind Maloney and saved the day for him and the Governor. One of the GOP Councillors subsequently admitted that he had committed a political blunder in doing so.

Lieutenant Governor Murphy battled Maloney's appointment because the latter was then a registered Republican. That, ironically, was why the three Republican Councillors voted for his confirmation.

The reason Murphy abruptly adjourned last week's session of the Executive Council was because he knew Furcolo was trying to jockey him into a position where he would not be able to vote against the appointment of Maloney to the chairmanship of the Metropolitan District Commission.

Furcolo was attempting to work an old political trick which numerous Governors have employed in order to avert the embarrassment of having a Lieutenant Governor of his own party vote against one of his appointments.

Governor Furcolo remained away from the State House and the Executive Council meeting. He supposedly was slightly indisposed. If he was he made a remarkably rapid recovery.

Furcolo's absence automatically meant that Murphy was the presiding officer at the Council meeting and as such was not eligible to vote for or against Maloney's appointment.

Murphy rebelled at the strategy and thwarted it by adjourning the Executive Council meeting and walking out.

In this particular instance, at least, Murphy was on pretty sound ground.

The switch involving Maloney and Charles W. Greenough whom Maloney succeeds as Metropolitan District Commission chairman was an out-and-out political deal.

Maloney has no engineering experience of which this observer is aware, and he has not demonstrated any outstanding administrative talents during his service as chairman of the State Housing Board.

Greenough, who had one more year to go as chairman of the MDC, is trading that year for a five-year appointment as an associate member of the commission at a much lesser pay than he has been receiving.

Governor Furcolo presumably maneuvered the job swap in order to get his own man in the MDC chairmanship for the next 12 months.

"My mother couldn't come so I brought a friend."

Furcolo An Enigma To Political Seers

Governor Furcolo, meanwhile, continues to be a complete enigma to the political analysts.

He is generally regarded as an extremely shrewd and competent politician and has been so rated since the days when he served in Congress from the Springfield area.

Furcolo's rise to public prominence was swift and spectacular.

The late Governor Paul A. Dever picked him out of Congress in the early summer of 1952 and appointed him State Treasurer. Since then except for his defeat by Senator Saltonstall in 1954, Furcolo has forced steadily ahead.

He defeated Congressman Philip J. Philbin for the endorsement for the U. S. Senate at the 1954 Democratic convention. He bested Governor's Councillor Patrick J. McDonough for the gubernatorial endorsement at the '56 convention.

Furcolo defeated Sumner G. Whittier by a decisive margin in 1956 and, with the Democratic tide at his back, he overcame Charles Gibbons. His victory last fall can't be attributed entirely to the Democratic trend because ex-Governor Averell Harriman benefited from the same trend and went down before Nelson Rockefeller in New York.

Some observers consider Furcolo as just about the luckiest politician ever to run for public office. Obviously, however, Furcolo hasn't won two terms in the Governorship on luck alone.

Yet, he seems completely unable to maintain anything resembling firm control over his own party. His relationship with a sizeable number of Democratic leaders ranges from polite coolness to icy hostility.

The surprising thing about all that is that Furcolo himself has a warm, pleasing personality and a gift for persuading and winning over persons with whom he talks.

One of the complaints of some Democratic legislators this year is that the Governor has remained aloof from them and that they have been given the brush-off when they tried to see him individually and apart from a so-called gripe session.

The assertion by a Furcolo aide to a freshman legislator that he was supposed to vote and not think, also has been exploited by the Governor's critics.

Less than two months ago Governor Furcolo's prestige was at an all-time high. His influence with the politicians in his own party, however, has been ebbing almost steadily since he began his second term.

Map Plans For Little League

Officials of Newton West Little League intend that every boy between 8 and 12 who registers and comes for tryouts will have a chance to play baseball in the organization.

The make up of the league is basically the same as in 1958. It will have four major league teams, four minor league and a farm league of eight or more teams.

The home of President Robert McLaughlin was the scene of a Tuesday night meeting when managers, coaches and officials of Newton West met to map plans for the '59 season.

Majors and minors again will play their games at Gill Stadium, the only LLB field in Newton maintained by members of the league.

Managers of the major teams this year will be Charlie Scammon, Orioles; Earle Mulare, Pirates; Roy Wheeler, Redlegs and Roy Cowe, White Sox.

The following dates have been tentatively set:

March 10—General meeting at the Auburndale Library, 7:45 p.m.

Drive Is Still Far From $50,000 Goal

"Smith Home" Campaign Assured Of Success

BANK JOINS SMITH HOME DRIVE—The "Save the Smith Homestead" campaign has been joined by the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company. Shown in photograph are, seated, George White, bank president, presenting check to Walter J. Kreske, while looking on are John Palen, trust officer at the bank, and Mrs. Parker Pond, Smith Homestead Society vice-president.

The drive to save the "Smith Homestead" at 1181 Centre street in Newton Centre, the home of the author of the patriotic hymn "America", has reached a stage where its acquisition by the Smith Homestead Society has become a certainty. Walter J. Kreske, president of the society which has spark-those who have labored to save the old structure from destruction.

President Kreske did express some disappointment at the lukewarm response made by some segments of the Newton population; he stated that the Newton Chamber of Commerce had endorsed the drive and that its executive secretary, Justin T. Horan, had mailed an endorsement to the Smith Homestead Society.

Kreske also said that retiring president Dwight Colburn had made a plea for support of the campaign at the Chamber's annual dinner meeting in January.

President Kreske explained the benefits to the city from a shrine of the type planned for the Smith Homestead and pointed out that it could represent an annual intake of $100,000 to local businessmen. Citing a recent national magazine article, he said that a government survey discloses that the "attraction of only 28 tourists a day to a historic site will bring it as much money during a year as a new business with a $100,000 annual payroll."

The money collected so far comes from a citywide solicitation of Newton public school children and from similar solicitations in other Massachusetts communities last fall, and from contributions by interested citizens throughout Massachusetts and other parts of the country.

The homestead at 1181 Centre street was the residence of Samuel Francis Smith for 50 years. Although he wrote "America" while still a student at Andover Theological School, then in Andover he was a leading citizen of Newton and for many years pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Newton City Official Explains "Weights And Measures" Week

Most people take for granted the accuracy of weights and measures that play so large a part in everything we buy and use, Newton Sealer J. Ellis Bowen declared today.

"But making sure that these are really correct is the great responsibility of your municipal Weights and Measures Department," he added.

Sealer Bowen made his comment after Governor Foster Furcolo proclaimed the week of March 1 to March 7 as "Weights and Measures Week" in Massachusetts, as part of a similar national observance.

In his proclamation, the governor noted the able administration of weights and measures laws relating to commercial practices is a prerequisite to equitable commerce, and that such administration guards impartially the interests of all buyers and sellers of commodities, particularly protecting the consuming public in its procurement of food and fuel and other necessities of life.

The first weights and measures law in the Bay State was an order on March 12, 1637. It required weights and measures in Massachusetts Bay and Plymouth Colonies to be presented for testing, sealing or condemnation.

Nationally, the first weights and measures law was adopted by a busy Congress, trying to organize the nation, on March 2, 1790. Now hundreds of communities throughout the nation are observing Weights and Measures Week.

"Most people take for granted the accuracy of weighing and measuring that play so large a part in everything we buy and use," Sealer Bowen stated.

"Thousands of inspections are made of scales and other quantity determining devices, such as gasoline and fuel oil meters, etc. Prepackaged items packaged in anticipation of sale must be spot checked. Old or inaccurate scales and measuring devices must be repaired or replaced. Losses by weighing or measuring errors can easily exceed losses by robbery in your city."

The public has an enormous stake the sealer said, per family per year in the accuracy of their purchases. Even a tiny amount of shortweight worth only a few cents per purchase, when multiplied by millions of purchases in this city would reach a staggering sum. A single ounce error on a scale making 100 weighings a day for 300 days in a year at $1 per pound will multiply out an error of $1,875.

"The City's merchants have a huge stake in weights and measures accuracy too," Sealer Bowen went on.

"Fair dealing merchants can really lose everything if their scales or meters happen to be 'slow' and are giving more than they're getting paid for.

"The majority of the merchants are strictly honest and about half the mistakes we discover are against their interests. We protect both buyer and seller alike.

"Sometimes the Weights and Measures Department discovers intentional cheating like short weighing—less than is paid for—or purposely shorting in weight or measure to make up for excessively low price marks.

"Prompt prosecution usually puts a quick stop to such practices. Enforcement over the years keeps trade clean and competition fair.

"It also keeps tradesmen and producers alert to the necessity of keeping their weighing and measuring up to accuracy requirements."

Newton at the Crossroads

City's Rapid Valuation Growth

(Printed below is the eighth of several articles to be prepared by the Newton Taxpayers' Association on various aspects of Newton's economy with special reference to taxation and its relation to land and building use in the city.)

Due largely to Newton's geographical position and the usual post-war growth of suburbs, the city has had a rapid increase in property investment in the past few years. The property value base has been further enhanced by individuals upgrading their own properties during the relatively prosperous period.

True, a much needed change in the personal property tax, increasing the exemption from $1000 to $5000, brought about a reduction in personal property valuation, but even so, Newton's overall base has increased in healthy fashion as follows:

Newton Valuations ($ millions)
	1950	1958	Change
Personal Property	20.4	14.9	-27%
Real Property	182.8	252.9	+32.8%

Total 203.2 267.8 +31.7%
In no year in the period did real estate values fail to increase by less than $7 million.

For taxpayers this steady influx of new investment has kept the pace of tax rate increases from matching the pace of the ever increasing expense levels of the city.

However if the rate of new investment should seriously drop, the impact will be felt directly in the form of rapid tax rate increases unless new state legislation is adopted.

For example, in 1952, because of the drop in taxable personal property due to the new exemption we mentioned above, total valuations only went up $1.3 million. That year the tax rate went up $7.40 per thousand valuation. Other factors were involved at the time but the decreased rate of valuation growth was by far the most important.

What about future investment increases? Hitherto undeveloped areas of Newton mostly can be developed at valuation levels which over a period of time can absorb much if not all of the cost of the resulting new required services.

The real problem comes in providing new capital investment on old land in order both to help carry the initial load of new service costs for the new areas before they can "pay back," and to aid in the healthy economic and social future life of the older areas themselves.

PONTIAC NAMED CAR OF THE YEAR

"Pontiac with wide-track wheels is the best combination of ride... handling... performance and styling of any '59 car" —The Editors of Motor Trend Magazine

In making its annual automotive award, the staff of Motor Trend Magazine, leading automotive publication, tests and evaluates all new cars. Here are quotations from the April 1959 issue:

"The stability of the 1959 Pontiac is the outstanding automotive advance of the year. Everyone considering a new car should experience it."

"It's the best balanced passenger car in America. We firmly believe that in moving the wheels farther apart, to develop the widest stance of any American car, Pontiac has created an entirely new sense of balance and handling security."

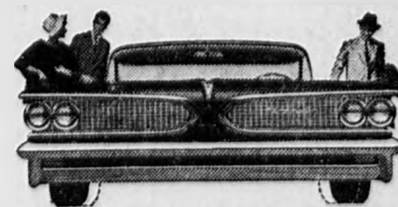

"Pontiac's lines are clean, simple and beautiful. It has a fleet look, a trim appearance. The wide wheel design contributes greatly to its over-all integrated styling. Any comparison with narrower track cars readily shows the difference."

"For the economy-minded, an efficient new engine. The new 420E Tempest economy engine offers remarkable performance along with exceptionally high mileage while operating on regular grade gasoline."

"Pontiac is again tops in performance, based on our extensive road testing. Acceleration is outstanding, yet the engine is unusually quiet and smooth."

Your nearest Pontiac dealer will be glad to let you road-test this award-winning automobile on your own. You'll see why it's the year's most talked-about car!

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean disappear, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier. Handling is easier. You drive with a new confidence, a comforting security. Pontiac gives you roadability no "narrow gauge" car can offer.

FREE! If you would like a reprint of the complete, illustrated article with all the tests and evaluations on which Motor Trend judged Pontiac 'Car of the Year'—see your Pontiac dealer or simply send your name and address on a postcard to Pontiac Motor Division, Department 10, Pontiac, Michigan.

Brookline In 63-34 Romp In Newton

Newton High's court squad, swamped 63-34 by Brookline in the season finale, compiled a record of six won and eight lost for the Suburban League campaign.

The over-all record stood at 10-9 and was the best Orange hoop performance since the 1954-55 season.

Wintry Days Call For Good Service From Indresano Co.

A welcome friend to customers these wintry days is E. Indresano, Co. Inc., of 41 Kearny Street, Needham Heights, one of the veteran fuel oil firms in the Greater Boston area.

The company is headed by Ernest Indresano and Elmer Balboni, partners and both of long experience in this field, with Mr. Indresano's years in the business extending three decades. A phone call to CE 5-0633 will bring a quick oil delivery, or information on oil supply and service.

The Indresano company recently moved to its new and spacious modern quarters in Needham, with a brand new building including six stalls for its trucks, underground tanks, offices and complete facilities for its staff and customers.

Indresano's has its own fleet of trucks, and in the Spring is expanding its service and heating unit installation service, so that it will be one of the foremost fuel oil service firms anywhere.

It has had the usual oil delivery service for customers, with an expert service department on call, for a long time, but both Mr. Indresano and Mr. Balboni feel that with the new plant and staff in full operation the firm's services will be the best possible.

Indresano's handles the outstanding Shell products, with its fuel oil featuring the FOA 5X ingredient, which purifies the oil, takes care of any moisture that accumulates in tanks, and keeps burners running more quietly and with greater heating efficiency, and cuts to a minimum the need for service calls and burner cleaning.

A phone call to CE 5-0633 will bring further information for our new or prospective customers, and will prove well worth while, for it will bring accurate information, and the best in courteous, friendly service.

Seek $300 Hike For City Help

Members of Local 800, State, County and Municipal Employees, are demanding an across-the-board $300 annual increase for all Newton employees, whether paid by the hour or on salary.

The unanimous vote was taken by some 50 members of the Union, which has a total membership of 300, held last week at Columbian Hall, Nantum. The request would affect some 500 city employees.

In his annual budget presented to the Board of Aldermen, Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., asked for $200 a year more for police and firemen; six cents an hour for hourly workers and increases of $150, $125, and $120 for employees in other classifications.

"In the past the hourly employees have been taking it on the chin," the union statement said. "We feel that the cost of living has so increased that we are entitled to a cost of living increase."

The statement also urged the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen to study wage scales and other benefits in other cities and towns.

John Cady is president of the organization and Pat DiGregorio is vice-president.

Many door prizes including a $50 gift certificate will be featured at the gala event.

The annual event portends to surpass all previous affairs this year with the theme "A Symphony of Spring" being carried out in decorations and in the gay fashions to be displayed. The show benefits the hospital building fund.

Mrs. Henry E. Zellman, of West Newton, is chairman of the Fashion Show. She reported last night that final arrangements have been made and that ticket reservations indicate a capacity attendance. Tickets may still be obtained from Mrs. J. Marshall Leyden, LAsell 7-8365, or Mrs. John L. Lutz, Jr., at Cedar 5-2221, ticket chairman. For reservations call Mrs. Thomas M. Keleher, Bigelow 4-6237, or Mrs. Philip R. Cahill at Cedar 5-5047.

about this question
"We were paid only $10,000 of the $15,000 fire loss on our commercial building. The adjuster said that, under our 90% co-insurance clause, we failed to increase our insurance as the building increased in value. Are most buildings under-insured today, due to inflation?"
